COLORADO HAS HEAVY FLOODS

UNVERIFIED RUMORS OF GREAT LOSS OF LIFE

Property Loss Will Be Extensive—Railway and Telegraphic Service Stopped

Denver, Col., Oct. 10.—With telephone and telegraph service crippled and more than 300 miles of railroad out of commission, only meagre reports are being received from the flood-swept districts of southwestern Colorado and northwestern New Mexico, comprising an area approximating 100 by 50 miles. There are rumors of heavy loss of life, but they cannot be verified. So far the list of dead is comparatively small. John Rice was drowned while aiding in the rescue of pupils at the Methodist mission school near Farmington, N. M., and near Blanca, Col., a Mexican family of seven are reported drowned. From various other points came reports of seeing persons swept away in the flood.

From Alamosa comes a report that 29 Indians at the Shipwreck Agency on the Navajo reservation in the canyons. All the buildings at the agency, erected by the government at a cost of $200,000, are reported to have been destroyed.

Property loss is estimated at approximately $5,000,000, a large part of which falls on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad. Practically the entire narrow gauge system of this road, known as the Rio Grande Southern, is out of commission and train service to a number of towns cannot be resumed, it is said, until 60 days.

Residents of towns in the flooded districts face a serious situation from food shortage. Stage service and telegraph lines are being established, but the destruction of highways is a serious obstacle.

Confirmation of the entire destruction of the hamlet of Arboles has been received. Every building in the village, including the railroad depot and a string of box cars, that were on a siding, were swept into the San Juan river. No loss of life is reported there.

AN HONEST CONVICT.

Colfax, Wash., Oct. 10.—Eugene Ray, recently tried in Colfax, bought his own railroad ticket to-day and left alone for the penitentiary with his commitment papers in his pocket to ask to be taken in to serve a term of from six months to 15 years for receiving stolen property.

Ray was convicted of receiving stolen wheat at London Junction. He appealed to the Supreme court, which affirmed the decision. Since his conviction Ray has been out on bonds.

Klamath Falls, Ore., Oct. 10.—As the result of an unprecedented windstorm yesterday, the waters of Link river were blown back into upper Klamath lake, leaving thousands of fish floundering in river beds helpless.

BLACK HAND CRIME IN CROWDED TENEMENT

Building Blown Up While Inmates Sleep and at Least Four Are Dead

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 10.—Four persons are believed to have perished at Benwood, a suburb to-day, as the result of a Black Hand outrage, when a big frame tenement housing 40 persons was blown up, and taking fire, was consumed. The house was conducted by Edward Kollinsky, who, with his family and a large number of boarders, were asleep, when a heavy charge of dynamite was exploded. The walls fell out and the men were blown from their beds. A woman with two children in her arms stood for a moment at a window and then fell back into the flames. A similar scene was enacted when a man attempted to escape from an upper story.

JEALOUS WOMAN'S ACT.

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 10.—Mrs. O. C. Schaefer, of this city, was shot and probably fatally wounded last night by Mrs. Mary E. Larkin, wife of J. W. Larkin, a contractor. The shooting was the culmination of marital difficulties of the Larkins, in which Mrs. Schaefer had figured.

Two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Larkin separated and afterwards Mrs. Larkin was committed to the insane asylum at Ukiah upon complaint of her husband. She was released last March.

Mrs. Larkin purchased a revolver with the announced intention of committing suicide. She was en route to the Schaefer home to bid her husband good bye, when she met Mrs. Schaefer on the street and opened fire. Two shots were fired, one passing through the woman's right lung. Mrs. Larkin is now in jail.

SPEEDING THE PARTING GUEST

OTTAWACHEERS GOVERNOR ON HIS LAST APPEARANCE

Quebec Will Give Him a Loyal and Sincere Send-Off on Thursday

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—His Excellency Earl Grey made his final public appearance in Ottawa at the Russell theatre last night, where a Government House party saw "The Private Secretary" performed by an English company. The orchestra played "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem, and the audience gave three cheers for his Excellency and Countess Grey.

Preparations are now complete for the farewell to Earl Grey, who leaves here on Thursday. Earl Grey and his party will arrive in Quebec over the Canadian Pacific railway and will proceed to the governor-general's quarters at the citadel. His Excellency will be entertained at lunch at Spencerwood at 1.30 p.m. by the lieutenant-governor and the members of the provincial cabinet.

In the evening a public reception and the presentation of a farewell address and the gift of the citizens will take place at the city hall. Earl Grey and party will embark on board the steamer Earl Grey on Thursday morning and will proceed to Rimouski.

The decoration of the public and other buildings is going on apace, and the electrical illuminations will be on a grand scale. The city hall, where the farewell to Earl Grey takes place, is being outlined with electric lights.

STATESMAN DEAD.

Australia Loses Its Minister of External Affairs.

Melbourne, Aus., Oct. 10.—Hon. E. L. Batcher, minister of state for external affairs in the Australian cabinet, died suddenly yesterday. He was walking on a mountain near Warburton when he stumbled and fell dead, heart trouble being the cause. Mr. Batcher was one of Australia's representatives at the last Imperial Conference. He was born in Adelaide in 1865. Major-General Wood, chief of the general staff in the government of the commonwealth, also died yesterday of heart failure. He was sitting in a drawing room at Torak, when he pitched forward and expired.

CHAIRMAN RESIGNS.

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—The resignation of Hon. S. N. Poirer, chairman of the N. T. R. commission, was sent to Sir Wilfrid Laurier on October 8. Later he placed his resignation in the hands of his Excellency Earl Grey. Sir Wilfrid did not accept the resignation, leaving it for the new government to deal with. He asked Mr. Poirer to continue as chairman of the commission until his successor is appointed. It is understood that the other members of the commission will not retire unless their resignations are asked for.

BOILER EXPLOSION DID NOT WRECK MAINE

Engineers Settle That Fact to Their Satisfaction in Examining Wreckage

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—At least one fact has been developed beyond controversy in connection with the excavation going on inside the cofferdam, enclosing the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor. That is that the ship was not blown up by her boilers. Some have contended that the explosion of the boilers caused the magazines to explode in turn. But a report from engineers shows the workmen have uncovered the tops of the boilers which were intact with one exception. That was in the case of one of the forward boilers which was burst, but which had been driven bodily by the blast from the magazines through a heavy bulkhead and against one of the afterboilers. Another curious find was an ammunition case which had been blown from the magazine room into the rear boiler room without exploding the smokeless powder it contained.

FROM THE OLD TO THE NEW.

Norfolk Town Makes Gift to Its Massachusetts Namesake.

Hingham, Mass., Oct. 10.—The old stepping stone, which for 700 years stood in the public square at Hingham, Eng., was presented to this town last night on behalf of the people of the English village by Hon. James Bryce, the British ambassador.

The stone is to be used as the cornerstone of a bell tower to commemorate the landing here 275 years ago of a band of Pilgrims from Hingham, Eng.

HEAVY EARTHQUAKE.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 10.—An earthquake probably not more than 1,000 miles distant and of considerable magnitude, was recorded to-day on the seismograph at Brooklyn college. The record began at 8:13 and lasted until 8:35 with the maximum disturbance of 8.32. The strongest movement was in the north-south direction. The disturbance was considerably more severe than that recorded last week in Haiti.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 10.—Earthquake shocks beginning at 5.18.03 and ending at 8 o'clock to-day were recorded by the seismograph at St. Louis University. The main wave passed under St. Louis at 7.24.27. The period was of 17 seconds duration.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 10.—An earthquake of considerable intensity and estimated to be 1,000 miles southeast, probably in or near Ecuador, was recorded to-day on the seismograph at Loyola University.

ITALIAN TROOPS LAND IN TRIPOLI

AN ARMY CORPS IS ON THE WAY STRONGLY CONVOYED

With Occupation of Country an Assured Fact Italy May Hear of Peace

The advance guard of the Italian army of occupation landed to-day at Tobruk, on the northeastern coast of Tripoli, six hundred miles east of the city of Tripoli and 75 miles west of the Egyptian frontier.

Tobruk is one of the gateways to the richest and best part of the Turkish province and that section of Tripoli which the Italians particularly covet. Thus is begun the occupation proper, on the accomplishment of which depends Italy's willingness to entertain peace proposals. The larger part of the Italian expedition is still at sea, closely guarded by war vessels.

Many transports, carrying thousands of soldiers, sailed from Italy last night and early to-day and others will leave to-morrow.

Communication between Tripoli and the outside has been restored. The Turkish ambassador at Sofia to-day accepted the post of foreign affairs in the Turkish cabinet.

An Army Corps at Sea.

Rome, Oct. 10.—The first Italian expeditionary force which left Naples October 5, was landed at Tripoli, Tripoli, to-day. It consisted of infantry, artillery and a company of engineers. The largest part of the total force sailed from Naples last night, and another fleet of transports left Taranto at sunrise to-day. These three groups will assemble as one east of Malta. The landing of a whole army corps on the Tripoli coast is looked on as one of the most difficult operations of the war despite the fact that little fear of an attack by the enemy is entertained. Accordingly every precaution looking to the safety of the troops has been taken.

The battleship convoy covers a moving area over one mile wide and five miles long. Within this square the transports appear secure from any danger except the ever-present one of the elements.

Several correspondents have been denounced to the courts by the crown prosecutor as guilty of betraying state secrets. Wherever troops are concentrated spies or alleged spies are arrested. Still, absolute secrecy is impossible. It is known that the fleet carrying troops to Tripoli is made up of sixty steamers which have been transformed into military transports. Friends of Reclid Pasha said his refusal to accept the portfolio of foreign affairs in the new Turkish cabinet was due to a disagreement with his colleagues over a programme which he submitted as a basis for a settlement with Italy. He was convinced that the only possible way in which Turkey could save anything was to cede Tripoli to that country now.

It is understood here that the powers will make representations at Constantinople, notifying Turkey that Italy, with a view to avoid very grave complications, has agreed to limit the war to Tripoli.

Duchess Queen Margarita is actively engaged in the preparation of the Red Cross Society for service in Tripoli.

Practical Exclusion.

Constantinople, Oct. 10.—At a cabinet council to-day it was decided to close all Italian industrial, financial and scholarly establishments in the country and to seize Italian steamers. Mustafa Assim Poy, minister to Bulgaria, has accepted the portfolio of foreign affairs in the new cabinet.

Promise to Turkey.

Athens, Oct. 10.—The newspaper Ikini asserts that the powers, headed by Germany, have promised Turkey a solution of the Cretan question agreeable to her interests if she concludes peace with Italy.

SUCCESSFUL TO BLOW.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—J. Walter Dick, 364 Huron street, who was struck by some one unknown as a result of an altercation at the corner of King and Toronto streets Saturday night, died yesterday and was buried to-day. On Saturday Dick acted as touch-line judge in the Argos-Tiger game.

CANADA THANKED FOR CORONATION TROOPS

British Government Feels It Had Good Effect in Drawing Empire Together

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—A letter thanking the Canadian coronation contingent for taking part in the ceremony has been received by Earl Grey and is posted in this week's militia orders. The letter is signed by the Right Hon. Lewis Harcourt, commissioner of public works, and states that the British government feels that the association of contingents in London had a good effect in bringing together officers and men from widely severed portions of the Empire.

The Canadian contingent was specially complimented on its appearance and efficient work.

The militia department has installed reference libraries at all divisional headquarters and many officers' mess libraries throughout the country.

G. T. P. SHOPMEN STRIKE.

Men Demand Same Scale as Other Railway Pay.

Winnipeg, Oct. 10.—With an entire lack of demonstration Grand Trunk Pacific machinists and boiler-makers to the number of a couple of hundred laid down their tools at ten o'clock this morning and walked out from the Transcona shops. Their demand is for an equal scale with the similar trades of the C. P. R. and C. N. R. shops.

The issue is confused by the abortive character of the conciliation board, which, under the chairmanship of Dr. Sparling, has done nothing in two months owing to the absence of the company's representative, Wallace Nesbitt, K. C., of Toronto.

EXECUTION LEADS TO A REVOLUTION

Chinese Rebels Appear to Be Active in the Province of Hupeh

Hankow, Oct. 10.—Much firing can be heard in the direction of Wu Chang. Communication with that city is cut off. Several large fires are seen. It is evident that soldiers have gone over to the revolutionary side, following the execution of four conspirators at Wu Chang to-day.

Twenty-eight Chinese revolutionists have been arrested at Wu Chang, capital of the province of Hupeh. Four of them were beheaded in front of the viceroy's yamen to-day. The arrests and executions followed the discovery of a revolutionary plot here. A bomb was exploded, whereupon a search revealed a factory for the manufacture of explosives and a plan for an attack on Wu Chang.

Chinese gunboats are patrolling the harbor. A message from Chung King says that the leaders of the movement in protest against the government's plan of building railways with foreign capital are policing the missions in the district where the rebels are operating.

A HOUSE OF THE DEAD.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 10.—With his pet cat and dog dead beside him in a cabin on his ranch, seven miles south-east of Fairfield, the body of Emil Wrag, a well-to-do German farmer, was found yesterday. Poison apparently had been accidentally introduced into the food. Wrag was to have been married next week to a young woman living at Spring Valley.

MILLINERY STORE WRECKED.

Mansfield, Ohio, Oct. 10.—Nine women were injured, one probably fatally, late to-day in the destruction of the millinery store of Rich & McCoy, by an explosion of natural gas in the basement. Fire which followed the explosion trapped a score or more of women in the wrecked building, but all were rescued.

ABDUCTOR KILLED.

Vienna, Oct. 10.—Ward has been released here to General Riza Pasha, while trying to carry away a beauty of the royal Turkish harem at Constantinople was challenged by a guard and upon failing to reply was shot and killed.

NO EXPULSION.

Rome, Oct. 10.—It is semi-officially announced that following the intervention of the German ambassador, the Ottoman government suspended the order for the expulsion of Italians from Turkey. It is expected that the government will now abandon the measure altogether.

WON CHAMPIONSHIP STAKES.

Newmarket, England, Oct. 10.—Mr. Fairlie's Lemberg had a walk-over in the Champion Stakes of 1,000 sovereigns here to-day. The usual keen wagering in connection with the Caesars' race, run to-morrow, was in evidence to-day.

HALIFAX RECOUNT.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 10.—Judge Wallace gave out the official figures in the Halifax recount yesterday as follows: Hon. R. L. Borden (C.) 7,040 Hon. A. K. Maclean (L.) 6,946 Dr. Edward Blackadar (L.) 6,879 A. B. Crosby (C.) 6,787 Messrs. Borden and Maclean are, therefore, the members-elect. The total Conservative vote is just two more than the Liberal vote.

FIRE DELAYS TRAINS.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 10.—Southern Pacific trains, both in and out-bound, were delayed for two hours to-day by a fire, which partially destroyed a warehouse of a furniture storage company. The warehouse was situated near the Southern Pacific Arcade station, and firemen had to stretch lines of hose across the tracks. The flames also swept the railroad right-of-way. The loss was estimated at nearly $50,000.

BULLOCK IS SENT UP FOR 6 MONTHS

GUILTY OF ATTEMPT TO EXTORT MONEY

Prisoner Asks for Suspended Sentence—Leniency Extended Because of Information

Frederick Bullock was this morning found guilty of attempted extortion from C. J. V. Spratt and sentenced by Judge Lampman to serve six months' imprisonment. His honor told the prisoner that had it not been for the fact that he had rendered service to the naval authorities and the crown in exposing and suppressing the theft of naval stores the sentence would have been longer.

Judge Lampman, in summing up this morning's case, said there was the evidence of Andrew Bechtel, Dr. Bechtel, Spratt, Houston, White, Hafer, and Price that accused had tried to obtain their assistance in getting money. He had to decide whether Bullock's demands were to get damages for malicious prosecution or were demands for hush money. It seemed to him that Bullock's mind contained the criminal intent. It was true Bullock had the other claim, but was willing to get out of the country and not give evidence, and it was a nonsensical idea that legitimate money should be pushed under a door.

"When a man employs a lawyer to undertake his case he does not run round from one to another trying to get money from them," Judge Lampman concluded.

Replying to his honor's question if he had anything to say, Bullock said: "I stand in this position as the result of being forced as chief witness for the prosecution. There was a reason to get me out of the way. I am a man of means. I was offered $2,000 and $10,000 to leave the city. By a fluke of a grand jury the men who would otherwise be found guilty by a petty jury are free. They have found it necessary to crush me. My evidence has been truthful. They had to go back a quarter of a century to find evidence that I have no opportunity to refute except at great expense. The case has put me in an unfortunate position. I had no intention to ask for hush money. I was followed everywhere. In the navy yard they sent me clever men always did it alone without a chance of witnesses overhearing. Their intention is to crush me, they feel that if the case against them comes up again as it is bound to do I am crushed. I helped Dr. Bechtel. He treated my little daughter who died because he went to California the night he should have come to attend her."

"I have a family to support and I ask your honor to order a suspended sentence. This has been forced on me. I have a formal request of committing an illegal act. I have a wife and a young family and if I am taken away I cannot support them. I ask you to be lenient with me as you can and order a suspended sentence."

Judge Lampman replied that he had no power to order a suspended sentence without the consent of the crown. Bullock then stood and was sentenced. Hon. C. E. Pouley, K. C., made a formal request that an application for an appeal on the ground that the verdict was against the weight of evidence, be noted.

PUBLIC SERVANT DEAD.

Olympia, Wash., Oct. 10.—Harry A. Fairchild, a member of the Washington public service commission and an attorney of state-wide renown, died in his bed at his home here, yesterday. Death was due to a sudden stroke of apoplexy. He was one of the keenest lawyers in the state.

CHECKER CHAMPION DEAD.

New York, N. Y., Oct. 10.—Richard Jordan, the world's champion checker player, is dead at his home in Edinburgh, Scotland, according to a dispatch received by friends here to-day.

NEW CABINET SWORN IN AT OTTAWA TO-DAY

Last Official Act of Earl Grey—Borden Ministry Representative of Protected Interests—Nationalist Influence

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—The ceremony of swearing in the new Dominion cabinet took place at noon to-day at Rideau Hall. The ministers drove to the viceregal residence and were received in the reception room by his Excellency Earl Grey, who was attended by his aides-de-camp. It was the last official act of the departing Governor-General and there was a little ceremony about it.

Premier Borden was sworn in first and then the others, two oaths being administered to each. The first was the oath of the Privy Council and the second that of the specific portfolio of which the minister was assigned.

Mr. Rodolphe Boudreau, Clerk of the Privy Council, was present and took the official record of the proceedings. The Bibles upon which the oaths of office were taken were presented to the ministers as souvenirs. After his excellency had felicitated the ministers individually they came back to the city and most of them took formal possession of their departments. Following is the new cabinet:

Premier and President of the Council—Hon. R. L. Borden, senior member-elect for Halifax, N. S.

Secretary of State—D. W. J. Roche, member-elect for Marquette, Man.

Minister of Finance—W. T. White, president of the National Trust Company, Toronto.

Minister of Justice—Charles J. Doherty, K. C., member-elect for St. Ann's Division, Montreal, and a former justice of the Superior Court of Quebec.

Minister of Trade and Commerce—Hon. George E. Foster, member-elect for North Toronto; finance minister in the last Conservative government and the only member of it in the new cabinet.

Minister of Customs—Dr. J. D. Reid, member-elect for Grenville, Ont.

Minister of Inland Revenue—W. Bruno Nantel, K. C., member-elect for Terrebonne, Que.

Minister of Railways and Canals—Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of lands, forests and mines in the Ontario government.

Minister of Public Works—F. D. Monk, K. C., member-elect for Jacques Cartier, Que.

Minister of Interior and Superintendent General of Indian Affairs—Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works in the Manitoba government.

Minister of Agriculture—Martin Burrell, member-elect for Yale-Cariboo, B. C.

Minister of Marine and Fisheries—Hon. J. D. Hazen, premier and attorney-general of New Brunswick.

Minister of Militia—Colonel Sam Hughes, member-elect for Victoria and Halliburton, Ont.

Minister of Labor—T. W. Crothers, K. C., member-elect for West Elgin, Ont.

Postmaster-General—L. P. Pelletier, K. C., member-elect for Quebec county.

ONTARIO WILL HAVE ELECTION SHORTLY

Reported That November 23 Will Be Announced This Week as the Date

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 10.—It is learned semi-officially that the Ontario elections will be held on November 23, with nominations a week earlier, and that the official announcement will be made on Thursday of this week, which will make a six weeks' campaign.

Berlin "insiders" were the first to learn and announce the date devoted on for the recent federal elections.

What is looked upon as a significant fact is that no steps are being taken to hold bye-elections to fill the nine vacancies at present existing.

SENATOR CHEVRIER DEAD.

Winnipeg, Oct. 10.—Hon. Noe Chevrier, member of the Senate since January 19, 1909, died last night at 19 o'clock at his residence, 156 Broadway Place, Winnipeg. He was a native of Rigaud, Verrecourt county, Quebec, 62 years of age. He was educated at Rigaud and went into business in Ottawa, but in 1871 removed to Winnipeg. He leaves two sons, half brothers, Horace and Eudore, and several daughters, including Mrs. A. M. Kennedy and Mrs. C. Mulvey.

STRONGLY LIBERAL.

Saskatoon, Sask., Oct. 10.—Final and complete returns for the 137 polling sub-divisions give McCraney, Liberal, 5,338; MacLean, Conservative, 4,760; Baumunk, Independent, 674. McCraney led the polls in 103 of the 137 divisions. He had a plurality of 1,552 over MacLean and a majority of 908 over both opponents. McCraney's majority in 1908 was 1,477, with two candidates only.

RICH PEARLING GROUNDS.

Melbourne, Oct. 10.—Pearlers have dropped on a rich patch of "broom," according to recent reports. Over four hundred luggers are now at work and already they have found magnificent pearls valued at five thousand, three thousand, fifteen hundred, and eleven hundred and fifty pounds.

STEALS GIN FROM

OFFICER'S LOCKER

Takes Advantage of Absence From Room—Contents of Two Compartments Rifled

A theft in a lion's den, or rather the police barracks itself, added another two months sentence this morning to the term of Thomas Wilson, a prisoner serving a sentence in default for drunkenness last week.

Wilson, during his few days sentence, had among his chores, to clean out the barrack rooms, and was regarded as reliable. When P. C. Brogan went on duty yesterday afternoon he put on his uniform, and placed his plain clothes in a locker in the room where Wilson was cleaning up.

Nothing further occurred till some half an hour later when Wilson staggered into the recreation room where the officer and others were engaged in amiable work, and then when he was safe in the cells he got busy to find out where the liquor came from. Constable Mann soon found that his locker had been forced, and a five kill bottle of gin taken out. Brogan's locker was also burst open, and the sum of $4.75 removed from his trousers' pocket. The money, except $2, was found concealed, some on the prisoner, some in the room upstairs, and some he had given to a fellow captive who marched off to the cells as a drunk. The prisoner made a rambling statement that he had the money when arrested, although evidence was forthcoming that he had nothing when first taken into custody. He denied that he was responsible for breaking open the lockers.

In view of the fact that Wilson had alleged it was his duty to secure intoxicants from outside while incarcerated in the barracks, the matter will be brought to the attention of Chief of Police Langley, Magistrate Jay ordering this to be done.

As a discouragement against using obscene language James Klein was ordered to pay $20, or go down for two weeks. His excuse was that he was drunk at the time.

The big freighter Edith, apparently not damaged in the least by her mishap while aground on Level Island. Summer strait, arrived at Seattle yesterday afternoon. The vessel will be drydocked as soon as her cargo is discharged for survey.

NEW DREDGE TENDER TAKES WATER TO-DAY

Tug Point Grey Launched at North Vancouver—Finest Towboat on Pacific

Vancouver, Oct. 10.—At North Vancouver this morning the new Dominion government tug Point Grey was successfully launched and towed across the inlet to Evans, Coleman & Evans wharf, where she will receive the boiler brought out for her from the United Kingdom by the Blue Funnel liner Bellerophon.

The Point Grey took the water at 8 a. m. and was designed by H. A. Bayfield, superintendent of dredges for the department of public works. She is 100 feet over all, 22 feet beam, and has a depth of hold of 15 feet, 4 inches. Her engines are 17 and 40 inches by 27-inch stroke, and the boiler is 12 feet long and 14 feet, 2 inches in diameter, giving a working pressure of 150 pounds per square inch.

The steering gear is of the Bayfield device and the Point Grey is designed as a tender for the government dredge Mastodon, which for four months has been working between the new and old towns of Alberni. The Mastodon will be here about October 15 to commence work on the Narrows, and the tug Point Ellice will act as tender until the Point Grey is completed.

LAST BOAT FROM DAWSON.

River Steamer Sails To-day Carrying Passengers From Lower Yukon.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 10.—The last river steamer sailed from Dawson for White Horse to-day, carrying the last passengers from the lower Yukon. All further travel in the Yukon Valley until next spring will be by trail.

Two steamers are yet to arrive in Seattle from Nome before the closing of the Behring Sea. The mining season on Seward Peninsula has not yet ended and operations will be continued until the ditches freeze.

POLICE BALL IS ARRANGED.

Function Set for November 9—Executive Committee Named.

At a preliminary meeting of the promoters of the annual police ball, held last evening, the date was fixed for Thursday, November 9, at the Alexandra Club. It is the intention to make the ball as great a success as its predecessors, and an executive was appointed to carry out the arrangements. Consisting of Police Magistrate Jay, Chief of Police Langley, Deputy Chief T. Palmer, and Constable Blackstock. Inspector Walker is treasurer and Detective W. H. Handley secretary of this committee.

Mrs. Gertrude Preston has resigned from the office of district deputy of the Ladies of the Macabees of the World. She is loud in her appreciation of the support given her by the ladies of the island belonging to the order. A successor to Mrs. Preston is to be appointed by the western representative, Supreme Commander Mrs. Olive B. Lock. Mrs. Preston's resignation is deeply regretted, for she proved an excellent officer. She is to reside in Victoria much to the delight of her many friends.

BULLOCK IS SENT UP FOR SIX MONTHS

The evidence given during the trial yesterday and this morning was a repetition of that given at the preliminary hearing when Bullock was sent for trial. F. N. J. White told of the conversation he heard in Andrew Bechtel's house between Mr. Bechtel and Bullock, in which the latter asked for money and suggested it be pushed under the door for him. W. H. Price and Louis Hafer told of conversations with Bullock in which he had said he would have to be paid money. Frederick Peters, K. C., told of his connection with Bullock as his solicitor and of the claim made against C. J. V. Spratt for damages in connection with the theft charge dismissed in the police court. Charles Wilson, his partner, corroborated in part, and this morning W. H. Price was called in regard to a conversation with Mr. Wilson. Mr. Price, however, could not definitely recall the conversation and could not contradict Mr. Wilson's statement. W. C. Mearns told of his connection with the matter when acting as solicitor for C. J. V. Spratt at the time of the prosecution of Bullock in the police court.

The energetic committee of the Old Ladies Home are busy making final preparations for the tea and sale to be held November 1. Mrs. Simon Leiser is in full charge of the fair. The society hope their friends will not forget them as it is their intention to make this fair and sale a record affair to swell the funds now being held to build a much needed wing to the now overcrowded home.

Working under the direction of A. E. Cleveland, C.E., F. W. Glover, C.E., is making fine headway on the delineation of the Mount Hope section of the inter-provincial trunk road, for which he is securing reasonably good grades and a satisfactory pass through the Similkameen river canyons. He expects to find a route close to the river as far as Princeton, crossing Whipsaw, Sine-Mile and Friday creeks at or near the mouth. He has already gone over the route between Princeton and Ashnola on a prospective tour and expects to complete his work by November. Branch roads are soon to be made necessary along the route in order to develop various good mining and agricultural camps and sections.

Among the many musical organizations which Victoria so fortunately possesses, the church choirs are likely to be overlooked, but that of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church is worthy of more than passing notice. For the past twelve months its membership has gradually increased until it now numbers over forty, amongst which are some of the leading soloists of the city and several members of the well-known Male Choral Club, "The Arion."

Under the able leadership of Mr. Jesse Longfield, the organist and choir-master, a high degree of excellence has been attained and visitors from the larger cities of the east, where there are many fine choirs, are loud in their praise of the work which has been accomplished. "This choir will give the cantata, 'The Story of Music,' by Nichols on Wednesday evening next in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and it will well repay those who are interested in choral music to pay them a visit on this occasion. It can be safely said that the choir now ranks second to none in Victoria."

PROMINENT LUMBERMEN HERE.

Two prominent lumbermen arrived in the city yesterday from the lower mainland in the person of L. A. Lewis, general manager of the Brunette Sawmill Company, New Westminster, and P. D. Roe, who is largely interested in lumber mills at Port Moody. On the boat they met another prominent lumberman in the person of R. H. Alexander, of Vancouver. They had business in connection with contracts for the prairie provinces this winter, which brought them over to the island to meet representatives of their customers here.

Mr. Lewis, who is a member of the board of control of the Royal Agricultural and Industrial Society, whose show was held last week, said it was the best ever arranged and the results were extremely satisfactory. Messrs. Lewis and Roe left on the afternoon boat for Vancouver to-day.

PROBABLY A PIPE DREAM.

Bellingham, Wash., Oct. 10.—Smoke was seen to issue from the old crater of Mount Baker shortly before five o'clock Saturday afternoon by residents of the towns of Glacier and Maple Falls. As soon as the report spread scores of people with field glasses took to the hills on the outskirts of Bellingham and were able plainly to see the dense pall of smoke gathering about the snowy crest of the peak.
Maple Falls and Glacier, interrogated by telephone, both confirmed the theory that the mountain was in eruption, stating that the smoke and vapor was issuing from the old crater in spurts, which could be plainly seen from the valley.
The summit has been since invisible, owing to clouds.
Post offices were first established in 1854.

VANCOUVER'S NEW COURTHOUSE OPEN

Mr. Justice Murphy Holds First Court in Palatial Building Lately Completed

Vancouver, Oct. 10.—The fall criminal assizes opened yesterday in the new courthouse, which is excelled by few halls of justice in the British Empire. "I think I may say without exaggeration," commented his Honor Judge McInnes, "that the appointments are equal to those of the new Strand courts in London, England, to which the British bar points with pardonable pride as being the last word in court furnishings."
After a long acquaintance with the old courthouse one is almost lost in entering the new building. Barristers were fitting in all directions to-day looking for the assize court, the court of appeals, supreme court chambers and other courts, and it was some time before they got their bearings.
The court of appeals is a palatial room. The painting and other architectural work is of mahogany and a massive canopy frowns over the bench where the highest provincial tribunal will sit. The color scheme is crimson.
The attorney-general, Hon. W. J. Bowser, and L. G. McPhillips, K. C., representing the British Columbia bar, attended at the opening of the criminal assize. Mr. Justice Murphy presided at the first court held in the new building.
Rex vs. Clarke was the first case at the criminal assize. The accused, Frank V. Clarke, is facing a charge of forgery. It is alleged that Clarke obtained possession of a money order for $90 sent to C. S. Wormald, who was living at the time with Clarke at Prince Rupert, by the former's father from Newcastle-on-Tyne.

LUMBERMEN MEET.

Discuss Reduction in the Cost of Marketing Product.
Calgary, Oct. 10.—The principal matter discussed at the meeting of the Mountain Lumbermen's Association held here Saturday was that of reducing the expense of marketing the output of the different mills.
At the present time the lumbermen are working independently of each other in the matter of selling and each has to keep a man constantly on the road. This entails a considerable expense and a corresponding lessening of profits and competition for orders.
A few years ago an attempt was made to pool the output of the mills and sell through the association. The experiment was not at that time a success owing to various reasons, and an effort is being made to revive the scheme on a different basis.
The members of the association disclaim any intention of forming a combination to increase prices either to the retail dealers or the consumers, the sole idea being to eliminate unnecessary expense in selling their products.
Another question discussed was the competition of American mills, but no official statement as to what steps were taken could be obtained.

PANAMA-PACIFIC FAIR.

President Taft Breaks Ground in San Francisco on Saturday.
San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 10.—The ground-breaking for the Panama-Pacific Exposition at which President Taft will officiate next Saturday, promises to be one of the most notable celebrations in San Francisco's history. A military and naval parade will precede the ceremony in the stadium at Golden Gate Park and elaborate exercises, consisting in part of choral singing and of an address by President Taft, Governor Johnson, Mayor McCarthy and Charles C. Moore, president of the exposition, will be given.
A solid silver spade with redwood handle, embossed with silver, will be used by President Taft in turning over the first sod to mark the commencement of the great fair.

FELL WITH LIGHTED LAMP.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 10.—Because Mrs. Horace G. Scott, wife of a well-known attorney, tripped and fell yesterday, she is in a hospital with a broken collarbone and the beautiful Scott mansion on the west side of Wapato lake, near South Tacoma, is a mass of charred timbers and debris. A lamp, which she was carrying at the time, broke to pieces on the floor and the oil exploded. Mrs. Scott arose at 5 o'clock to close a window because of the high wind then blowing. She lighted a lamp, but stumbled near the window, which was on the third floor. The wind sweeping in spread the flame with great rapidity. Mrs. Scott was rescued from the room by her husband, and they fled from the burning building with their two children. By the time the South Tacoma fire department arrived the entire structure was ablaze. The mansion was built 29 years ago. Practically nothing was saved.

NEW OREGON LINE.

Tillamook, Ore., Oct. 10.—The first train from the outside world ever to pull into this town arrived here yesterday over the just completed road of the Pacific Railway & Navigation Company. The train bore P. O'Brien, general manager of the Hardman system in the Pacific Northwest, several Harriman officials and President Lytle of the Pacific Railway & Navigation Company. The train was met here by nearly every resident in the place, and the day was turned over to celebrating.
The new road will probably be made part of the Southern Pacific system. It is 90 miles long and cost $5,000,000.

THINKING THEMES BY DR. FRANK CRANE

What is Life? When you get off at the proper point where you can grasp it as a whole, what is it? Let us rummage in the library for an answer.

At random taken, here are some views of philosophers and poets: Firdusi, "Illusion, cheat and fraud." Sophocles, "The best of all is, not to be born." Lycurgus, "Life is not to breathe, but to act." Seneca, "Life is long to those who know how to use it." Plautus, "To live well, live to-day." Publius Syrus, "Luck rules life, not wisdom." Marc Aurelius, "Life is a tissue of optics." Cicero, "Life is brief, glory eternal." Virgil, "A brief and irreparable time." Alcaidi, "A fallen tear, which the earth drinks up." Rossetti, "A point, with a memory and a hope." Tarchetti, "Many do not enjoy life because they have never found its point of equilibrium." Pope Clement XIV., "Man's life is like a day; his birth as the dawn, his infancy the morning, his virility the noon, his death the night." Dante, "Living is a race to death." Guerrazzi, "Like water, life sweetens rising to heaven." Bataac, "Life is what one's sentiments make it." Lamartine, "Life is a song and each soul a voice." Rousseau, "Life is to make use of all our organs, senses, faculties, and every part of ourselves which can give to us the sensation of existence." La Bruyere, "Most men spend one part of their life making the other part miserable." Calderon, "Life is fiction." Pope, "All life's a sea." Ary Scheffer, "To fight, and ever to recommence the fight, is life." Erasmus, "Life's a comedy." Shakespeare, "All the world's a stage." Byron, "Life's an interjection, an Oh, an Ah, or a Bah!" Perhaps best of all is this from Thomas Overbury, "I like the reply of that philosopher who, when someone asked him what he thought of human life, said nothing, but shrugged his shoulders and walked away."

NOOTKA WAS SCENE OF COUNTERFEITING

European Expert Alleged to Have Made American Notes on the West Coast

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—After a search across the continent and up the British Columbia coast, the secret service operatives yesterday afternoon captured Albert Leon, a Russian Jew and political refugee, as he was about to leave New York for South America. Leon is alleged to be at the head of an extensive counterfeiting gang which has flooded the Pacific Coast with spurious ten-dollar bills during the last year.
The secret service was advised yesterday that Leon was alleged to have perfected a process by which he photographed the face of a note which looked so much like surface printing that many experts declared it to have been printed from an etched plate. Two of Leon's alleged confederates, Rudolph Swanson and Fred Morick, were arrested in Chicago two weeks ago, charged with passing counterfeit money.
Leon arrived in this country about three years ago. He took up a section of land near Beaumont, Los Angeles, Cal., where it is believed the first spurious notes were made. In December, 1910, he went to Nootka, Vancouver Island, British Columbia, and it was charged that most of his counterfeit work came out of his plant there.
The notes of these national banks, it was alleged, were counterfeited by Leon: The Riverside National Bank; the First National Bank, Yuma, Ariz.; First National of Orange; Pasadena, Cal.; First National of Portland, Ore.; First National of Portland, Ore.; National Bank of Commerce, Wichita, Kas.; Anglo and London; Paris National Bank of San Francisco; Illinois National of Springfield, Ill.; Blair County National of Tyrone, Pa., and the Crocker National of San Francisco.
Leon also was alleged to have counterfeited the ten dollar United States Buffalo note and to have circulated it on the Pacific coast. The national bank notes were circulated principally in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Ore., Seattle, Chicago and New York.

About a month ago a couple of U. S. secret service officers came to Victoria and enlisted the aid of the provincial police. Going up to Nootka, on the Tees, Leon's house was found, and in it were a complete photographic outfit, acids, chemicals, paper for printing notes and other paraphernalia. Leon had left the house for the south not long before.

TWO PEOPLE KILLED.

Rochester, Mich., Oct. 9.—Two persons were killed and eleven injured, one probably fatally, Saturday night, when a Detroit United Railway work car crashed into the front end of the northbound Detroit United Railway Limited, about a mile north of Rochester. The limited was crowded with passengers, and almost without warning the work car ploughed through the front vestibule nearly to the rear of the smoking compartment.

THEFT OF SAVINGS KILLED

Portland, Ore., Oct. 10.—Efforts of the police were directed toward finding a robber rather than a murderer, in the case of Charles Molles, a former resident of Minnesota, who was found dead by his wife here Saturday in his home. The police believe that while Molles was engaged in transferring some money from his wife's purse to a hiding place where the couple had secreted about $600, that a robber entered the house. Molles, who was an invalid, is believed by the detectives to have been so affected by the shock that death resulted.
Further examination of Molles' body will be made to-day to determine definitely whether there are traces of poison in the stomach.

ROBBER GOES TO PEN.

San Francisco, Oct. 10.—Detectives yesterday foiled a plot whereby they say Elmer Smith, recently convicted of complicity in the robbery from the steamer Humboldt of $80,000 in gold bullion last year, was to have been smuggled out of the country before he could be sent to San Quentin prison for a one-year sentence. A post card written by Smith, on which he stated, the detectives say, that he was about to escape from custody, fell into the hands of officers. A court order permitting a raid on a private sanitarium here, where Smith has been undergoing treatment for the drug habit, was obtained, and the officers obtained entrance to the place, after breaking down two doors. Smith was found hiding in a coal chute in the cellar. Owing to Smith's condition it was decided to leave him at the sanitarium in charge of a deputy sheriff until tomorrow, when he will be taken to San Quentin.

GREAT ROAD RACE.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 10.—In one of the greatest road races ever seen in this city, Erwin Bergdoll, a Philadelphia amateur driver, won the Quaker City motor club's 202½-mile automobile race with a 90 horse-power Benz car in Fairmont Park yesterday afternoon.
His time was 3 hours 15 minutes 41 35-100 seconds.
Wishard, in a Mercedes, was second. Time, 3 hours 20 minutes 11 4-100 seconds.
Ralph Mulford was third in 3 hours 20 minutes 12 78-100 seconds.
Bergdoll not only lowered the record for the course, which was 3,29.07 88-100, made last year, but he twice lowered the record for the lap. His best time was 7 minutes 28 seconds for 8 11-100 miles. The best previous time was made by Ray Harroun last year in a Marmon when the covered distance was made in 7 minutes 38 seconds.

WILL REORGANIZE.

Seattle, Oct. 10.—Directors of the Western Steel Corporation, against which several small suits and a petition asking the appointment of a receiver, are pending in the superior court, held a conference yesterday and decided to renew their efforts to bring about a reorganization of the company.
Word has been received from a trust company in New York that if a satisfactory reorganization is effected it will furnish financial support to the steel corporation. It is understood that the plan of reorganization contemplates the elimination from control of James A. Moore, promoter and president of the corporation.
Further conferences will be held by the directors.

BALFOUR ON RESULT.

Haddington, Scotland, Oct. 10.—A. J. Balfour spoke before an immense meeting of the Unionist Association on Saturday.
"I hope," said Balfour, "that our people will find the spirit in which we must approach this question in the decision reached by the Canadian people. The Canadian decision extended far beyond the borders of Canada, and must have beneficial results for the Empire at large. The decision of Canada shows how impossible it is to maintain the present system spoken of as free trade.
"Unless this country meets the situation we will have Canada, Australia, New Zealand and other great communities making their special commercial tariffs with other countries. This country will awake some fine morning to find that these local communities, loyal as they are, have instituted a system of tariffs in which we will find ourselves at a disadvantage. Such a state of affairs must have a fatal effect upon the unity of the British Empire."

Mr. Balfour declared that the system of commercial defence was as necessary as any other defence, and he did not propose any plan. He specified home rule and disestablishment as constituting the "second act of the Liberals' attempted revolution."
"The Conservative Party must not," he said, "leave the constitution in the mud where the Liberals had put it, but must rebuild and strengthen the second chamber with a representative element."
—With the turning of the leaves, and the fall winds blowing, your thoughts should turn to buying your overcoat. We have the finest assortment in town, $10 to $35. J. N. Harvey, Ltd., 614 Yates street.

ROYAL NAVAL CLUB,

Portsmouth, England

To the Zam-Buk Co.

Dear Sirs,—I have found Zam-Buk most reliable for healing cuts and abrasions; while for the relief of skin irritation it is invaluable. (Signed) RODNEY M. LLOYD, Admiral.

Zam-Buk Cures Bad Burns.

Stoker Kingsnorth, of H.M.S. "Cochrane," says:—"I slipped and fell with my arm on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly fried the skin. At once the ship's surgeon dressed my arm, but the burns took the wrong way, owing to a lot of dirt from the pipe setting up blood-poison. A large scab appeared, and from underneath the festering flesh, matter oozed out. I was in fearful pain and didn't know how to get ease.
"For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments proved no good. Indeed, I got worse. I therefore obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first application, healing commenced; and a few boxes of Zam-Buk healed my wound completely."

Zam-Buk cures eczema, ulcers, abscesses, ringworm, bad leg, varicose ulcers, piles, cold sores, chapped hands, babies' sores, etc. All stores at 50c, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Send in stamp for trial box.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

For ten or twelve days the British Columbia government press has been assuring the public that the announcement by Premier Borden of the personnel of his cabinet would be full of surprises. We were repeatedly told to brace ourselves for a shock that would jar things loose generally. We have the official announcement to-day, and in spite of the much-heralded achievement the surprise has not materialized.
If surprise should be expressed at all,
it would be surprise that the people are not more surprised. Mr. Borden has given no evidence in the construction of his cabinet that he leads a united party or hope that the men with whom he surrounds himself will be anything but a disappointment. We say this with a degree of sadness, for it was but reasonable to hope that with so overwhelming an election to power Mr.
Borden would have been able to select from among his followers men much stronger than those he has chosen. It is tremendously significant that all the men of provincial or parochial power—excepting Hon. Robert Rogers—have stood aloof from Mr. Borden.

Nor does the allocation of the new ministries to their various portfolios tend to strengthen public confidence.
So far as British Columbia is concerned, it has, of course, all that it is entitled to in view of the reported refusal of both Premier McBride and Attorney-General Bowser to enter the cabinet—two wholesome Conservative leaders who have decided that Mr. Borden must tread the wine press alone. So also Sir James Whitney. We wish for Hon. Martin Burrell nothing less than the undiminished regard and good wishes of Mr. Goodeve, M. P. Mr. Burrell, with the assistance of Mr. Geo. H. Barnard, will be well able to get for Victoria the breakwater, the new post office, the Esquimalt graving docks, the construction of warships on the Pacific coast, the increased manning of the fortifications, increased pay for the garrison artillery, another coast fisheries cruiser, and other promised considerations usually classified in the auctioneer's list as too numerous to mention.

It is significant, also, that Quebec has five ministers in the council, while hitherto the allowance—not including the Prime Minister—has been three.
Also significant that Hon. F. D. Monk, who has repeatedly sworn by high heaven that he would not consider a portfolio without a pledge that the navy bill should be repealed, is in the cabinet. Also significant that Hon.

Robert Rogers, whose political record is not far from shady, is minister in the most important department excepting that of finance, and that the portfolio of finance could, apparently, be filled only by a renegade Liberal who "placed country before party." Hon. Col. Sam Hughes as Minister of Militia is perhaps the best joker in the deck, and the relegation of Hon. Geo. E. Foster to the department of trade and commerce is the next higher card.

IRISH HOME RULE.

Because the Times has ventured to express sympathy with the cause of Home Rule for Ireland, and because it has expressed a wish that the object of Liberalism in the United Kingdom with respect to this cause should triumph, it has been intimated that our stand upon that question is partisan. If to believe in the righteousness of the principles for which a political party stands is partisanship, the Times must plead guilty. While we are aware of the wide divergence of conscientious opinion upon a subject which has been for so many years in the field of political combat, our admitted adherence to Liberal principles and the triumph of those principles wherever practised must appear somewhat in the nature of justification for this stand. While we admit the sincerity of those non-partisan people, both in the United Kingdom and in America, who fear for Protestantism, and other things, if Home Rule is granted to Ireland, we have yet to be convinced that such fears have any justification in the groundwork of the structure. In this opinion we are ably supported by the opinions of leading British journals—not Unionist, of course—which appear to us to be in a position to express an unbiased and safe ultimatum as anyone.

The Irish cause is coming to be much better understood in both Great Britain and America by everyone except the Unionists and Tories than it was a few years ago. Even the Irish leaders themselves have reached a much more reasonable position on the question of the terms under which Home Rule may safely be granted to the Irish people, and it appears to us inconceivable that British statesmen are incompetent to devise such a measure of Home Rule as will conserve the rights of all those who fear an ultramarine dominance in Ireland.
The reasons for our confidence in the ultimate triumph of this cause may be stated in the words of a British exchange which reviews the recent history of the progress of the Irish cause.
It says: "First, great reforms, the settlement of the land question, the settlement of the university question, and the creation of a system of local government, have been won, but only after years of agitation and suffering.
When under a native government and legislation they would long ago have been obtained as a matter of course.
Secondly, these reforms, in proportion as they have made the people of Ireland more prosperous and more free, have given them all the stronger reasons for insisting that they themselves are the only competent persons to manage their own internal affairs.
Thirdly, while they repudiate the right of the minority to over-ride the desire of the majority for self-government in domestic affairs, the majority claim no privileges over the minority, but, on the contrary, propose to guarantee their rights and liberties in the clearest possible manner. Lastly, Ireland merely asks to be permitted to take her place as a loyal and contented portion of the Empire, on the terms which have brought peace to Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. With the experience of South Africa before their eyes, the people of Great Britain cannot easily be worked upon by the suspicions and jealousies with which the Unionists have made play in past years. The absolute success of the Liberal policy and the complete falsification of Unionist prophecies of evil in South Africa have destroyed the power of the Unionist party to make mischief any longer between the people of Ireland and the people of Great Britain."

When these are the facts in the case, presented by those who have no particular interest—other than the cause of justice—to serve, we decline to howl to the opinion of anyone no better informed and no less likely to be partisan than ourselves. While we accord liberty of opinion to our readers, we must insist that we be permitted to exercise the same liberty ourselves.

The Laurier government leaves its successors a full treasury. Mr. Foster, when he comes back, will find himself in unaccustomed surroundings.

Ontario cannot spare Sir James Whitney and British Columbia cannot spare Hon.—Not Sir—Richard McBride.
What a commentary on the strength of a political party.

An American exchange says: Miss Canada will please send back our ring.

our bouquets and all our letters. She's nothing but a snub nosed, bleached blonde anyhow, and we know another girl who is much better looking. Another American paper remarks that Uncle Sam might marry Mexico now just for spite.

The London Advertiser says: Mr.
Barnard, member-elect for Victoria,
B. C., made his chief election cry the building of half the Canadian navy on the Pacific coast. Seeing that his party opposed a Canadian navy, Mr.
Barnard's campaign was a calculated piece of humbug and parochialism.

The Fruit Magazine (Vancouver), so well and favorably known to all British Columbia fruit growers, appears this month in an enlarged form and under a new title. It incorporates two subtitles, Scientific Farmer and Canadian-Citizen. The object of the enlargement is to comply with frequent requests that the valuable magazine extend its sphere so as to include subjects of general farm and citizenship interests. It is more than ever a creditable production.

The Canadian Lumberman expresses the hope that with the defeat of reciprocity and the unequal situation between Canada and United States the Borden government will see its way to imposing a duty on American lumber coming into Canada equal to that imposed on Canadian lumber by the United States. There would be no violation of Tory principle should this be done. Of course the consumer, who is helpless, would have to pay the duty. Why not?

The Winnipeg Telegram says:
"Hitherto it has been generally supposed that government should have nothing to do with business enterprise or with the people's battle against nature, for board and clothes. In the future our idea of government is likely to undergo a great change. We shall probably come to think of it as a business partnership—a vast over-arching public trust, commissioned to work out such a gentlemen's agreement among all minor business concerns as shall make it possible for every man to earn a decent living." If Borden should fall at this gigantic task the country might call on Premier Mc-Bride. His theory of how to do it is to "raise the tariffs higher."

All doubts as to the position of the Borden government on the question of a Canadian navy have been set at rest
by an announcement made by Hon. L.
P. Pelletier, the new postmaster-general, who delivered the ultimatum at a mass meeting held in Montigny to celebrate the election of the Conservative-Nationalist candidate. He said:
"We have been elected on the ground that the Canadian people would have a navy only if the majority were willing to have it, and if the men now in possession of the power neglect to carry this article of our programme we shall take means to have it carried."
Three other new members of the same political cult made similar deliveries on that occasion. It looks already as though Hon. Mr. Borden will be compelled to carry out his oft-repeated pledges to submit the navy question to a referendum.

On the morning of September 21, the day of Canada's election, the London Morning Leader made the following reference to the situation: "It is none of our business to interfere with any colony's management of its own affairs, and it is for Canada alone to judge the issue now presented to her. But British Liberals cannot be expected to keep silence when they see the monopolists who are levying so cruel a tax on their fellow countrymen endeavoring with the earnest support of tariff reformers in this country to mask their selfish greed under the pretence of patriotism. It is too late now to re-argue the case for and against reciprocity;
all that we desire to point out is that these men who are now going about protesting their devotion to the British Empire, their horror of any connection with the United States, and their desire to increase the British preference if only they may be spared American competition, are the same who for years have been 'crying aloud' that a tariff of 30 per cent. on British wool-lens is far too low and that the tariff on all cottons (including British) should be raised."

Choice Selection of Women's Tweed Coats from $11⁷⁵

Men's Suits at $10, and Knitted Vests at $1.75

Women's Long Coats---Pleasing Styles, Modest Prices

At no time in the history of this store have we had such a wide and interesting showing of Long Coats marked at prices that are not only popular, but remarkably low for the standard of quality that the goods represent. There are so many styles in vogue this season—and all the best may be seen here—that it is difficult to describe them all in full, or give you an adequate idea of the choice stock that is here for you to choose from. There are models with handsome shawl collars made of reversible tweeds, collars, cuffs and pockets faced with the reversible side of the material and handsomely finished with stitching and buttons, also roll or military collar styles, finished with stitched bands, buttons, pipings or dashes of plaids and other materials. See the window display, and if you don't see a style or a size to suit you—enquire for it in the Mantle Department. It's sure to be there. Prices ranging down from $25 to $11.75

Men's Tweed Suits at $10, Knitted Vests at $1.75, and Men's Trousers at $2.75 and $2

These are just three of the many lines that we can offer you to-day at prices that will mean a big saving to you. Every garment offered for sale is well made and in every respect measures up to "Spencer's standard of quality," which means that the goods represent the best possible value for your money. In point of style these are the latest and most effective that we have seen, they are smart and dressy, but not conspicuous and the ear-mark of skillful tailoring is plainly to be seen in every line.

MEN'S SUITS, made of high grade tweeds in single and double breasted styles; colors greens, brown and grey mixtures; very smart and well tailored. Spencer's special price, per suit $10.00

MEN'S FANCY KNITTED VESTS, in a large and pleasing variety of colors and patterns, well made and represent exceptionally good value at, each $1.75

MEN'S TROUSERS, in all sizes. Don't forget that your size is here in many materials and colors, including heavy Oxford and Halifax tweeds, Bedford cords, etc., well made and are, beyond all doubt, the best value that we have handled for a long time. Special, $2.75 and $2.00

SOME STERLING VALUES IN BOYS' SUITS IN GOOD TWEED MIXTURES

There is no room for doubt, once you see the goods, that the quality is all that you can wish for. They are strong, stylish and well-tailored, in fact we consider that they are the best and most serviceable stock that we have handled. Every suit is well tailored, all the care and skill that is to be found in our best men's suits have been put into this line, consequently we have absolute confidence in the goods and heartily recommend them to you. These Suits are made of high grade tweeds, in mixtures of browns, greys and greens, and range in price from $4.50 per suit down to $3.75

Boot and Shoe Departments---Women's Boots at $2.95 and $3.50

This line includes a splendid assortment of very dainty new models that are attractive, comfortable and represent extraordinary value. FIRE CHIEF DAVIS ON THE RAMPAGE

Lack of Proper Exits From Galleries in Moving Picture Houses Again Protested

Fire Chief Thomas Davis has taken up the matter of prohibition of galleries in moving picture houses and will enter a protest to a building permit granted by the building inspector for the erection of a gallery in a Johnson street place of entertainment.

He will protest in regular form by letter to the city council and will urge the necessity for a by-law prohibiting the introduction of galleries except where there is provided every safe and ample means of exit without danger in case of fire.

There is not a picture house in the city, he says, where the exits are safe in the event of a sudden outbreak of fire. Theatres built specially for show purposes are provided with necessary exits but picture houses have been constructed from ordinary stores without sufficient exits and to guard against crowding and congestion of exits from galleries in his purpose in protesting against the permit asked.

Fires in picture houses, in a majority of cases, he says, commence in the machine box, which is generally in the gallery or where the gallery is proposed to be placed. An outbreak under such circumstances would probably result disastrously, and he is working on the plan that prevention is the best cure.

COLIN S. CAMPBELL IS SUPERINTENDENT

Succeeds Frederick S. Hussey as Head of the Provincial Police Department

Colin S. Campbell has been appointed superintendent of provincial police in succession to the late Frederick S. Hussey, and the appointment will be announced in the next issue of the Provincial Gazette.

The appointment of Mr. Campbell was generally expected, and it will be a popular one through the provincial police ranks of the province. He has for many years been stationed at Vancouver, and from long service and merit has earned the appointment now awarded him.

The new superintendent has been 20 years in the service of the provincial police department, serving in various capacities and earning the esteem of his superior officers in each position he has held.

Not only in British Columbia will the appointment be popular, but in other parts of Canada, and also in American police circles, where Mr. Campbell has many friends who will be ready to offer congratulations on his succession to the highest rank in the provincial police.

CONCERT AT ROYAL OAK

Clever Performers Attract Large Audience and Give Fine Entertainment.

A concert of exceptionally high merit was enjoyed by an appreciative audience on Friday evening in Royal Oak hall. The stage, exquisitely decorated in maiden hair ferns and autumn leaves, made an attractive setting for the beautifully gowned performers. The Misses Mesher charmed their listeners with violin and piano solos from Cavalleria Rusticana and Maynard's Mazurka. Miss Eugene Fox was pleasingly heard in song, and offerings. Harry Sharp rendered "The Corporal's Ditty" and "The Jolly Cavalier," quite to the liking of the spell-bound audience. Then came J. Reid's "Two Eyes of Gray" and "The Rosary" sung in a fine tenor voice. Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Reid and Mr. Hart sang these dear old southern melodies by Scott Gatty, "Far Away Over Dere" and "De Ole Banjo." Miss Stewart accompanied the various singers. "God Save the King" fittingly brought to a close the first of the series of concerts to be given under the auspices of the Royal Oak Women's Institute. One hundred and twenty members are giving that delightful little suburb musical treats which are being heartily appreciated.

New Branch Will Be Founded This Evening—Prominent Men Approve Proposal

Arrangements are completed for the meeting this evening to found the British Columbia branch of the Royal Lifesaving Society, which has been called at the Balmoral at 7.30 p. m.

Among those who have promised support, but are unable to attend the meeting this evening are G. H. Barnard, M. P., and Lieut. Hodgson, R. N., of H. M. S. Albatross. The latter writes: "I believe that the education in life-saving and the art of navigation is one of immense importance, as after one or two fatal accidents in this city the necessity for this branch of education is shown here."

Lieut. Governor Paterson has expressed his willingness to become an officerholder in the society.

A circular has been sent by the secretary, of the Boy Scouts (A. O. Hughes) to the scoutmasters of the various detachments in the city asking them to attend the meeting, and the numerous athletic organizations in the city will also be represented through their members.

P. H. Pomfret, the hon. representative of the society, who has done splendid work along these lines in the past, and only a few days ago demonstrated the methods of the Royal Lifesaving Society to hundreds in the new Y. M. C. A. building, will undertake the work of secretary for the present. Naturally he welcomes the establishment of an organization which will back him in any efforts he can make for the carrying on of the excellent work performed by this society in other parts of the world.

CITY SOLICITOR REMAINS

City Solicitor McDiarmid has decided to accept the council's vote of confidence in him and remain at his post. He claims that his tenure of office will terminate at the end of the year, however, as it is only the congestion of civic business which has induced him to remain in face of his protestations against the "atmosphere of suspicion and intrigue" alleged to surround his department.

CROSS AND CRESCENT.

Interesting Address on Christianity's Rival Delivered by Canon Gould.

The struggle between the Cross and the Crescent in Turkey and Palestine at the present day formed the subject of the address last evening by Canon Gould, secretary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada, at a meeting in Christ Church school room. The Dean of Columbia occupied the chair.

The speaker, who had lived among the Mohammedans for thirteen years, showed that the religion of the prophet Christianity in the world, and it stood its ground in spite of all that the followers of the Cross could do. There was always the danger in such outbreaks as to-day between Turkey and Italy of the conflict spreading, and becoming a holy war for the domination of the world. As a medical missionary he had lived in closest contact with the Turks, and knew the awful conditions under which the people lived before the advent of constitutional government. When he went to Constantinople in 1897 there were still the bullet marks of the Armenian massacres to be seen in the walls of the buildings. The conditions in the prisons also were appalling. Canon Gould passed on to speak of the rebellion in Arabia, and the bad treatment of the army under the old regime.

The constitutional government, he showed, had sought to reform the army, and if the present war was on, he could assure them conditions would be very different. The Turkish revolution had failed of its full success not because of failure of intention on the part of the leaders of the Young Turk party, but because the cir-

LACROSSE GAME WAS DISAPPOINTING

WORLD'S BEST TWELVE SEEN IN ACTION HERE

Vancouver Outclassed Tecumseh at Royal Athletic Yesterday—Lolonde the Star

Some fifteen hundred lacrosse fans gathered for the desire of seeing the world's champion lacrosse team in action on local ground yesterday, and to say the least, the realization was somewhat disappointing. As a demonstration of the difference between amateur and professional lacrosse it was good, but as a contest it was poor. Neither team put much ginger into its work, and except for an occasional moment or so the game was never exciting. At no time were the Vancouver players bothered by their opponents, the Tecumseh, N. L. U. champions and runners-up for the Minto cup. The score, 9 to 3, is a fair criterion of how the play went.

The first quarter was the best of all. The players seemed imbued with some idea of what was due the spectators and started off with a vim and dash which was very inspiring. Towards the close of the quarter, however, the inclination to take it easy after the gruelling struggle for the Minto cup gained the upper hand and the remainder of the game was tame. The effects of the rough voyage across the Sound yesterday may also have had something to do with the lack of life in the contest.

As an exhibition of scientific, systematic lacrosse, however, it was at times a revelation to local fans, or at least to those whose experience did not extend beyond the amateur game. The passing and checking, the formation for attack or defence, especially of Con Jones' stars, was on a plane which amateurs might aspire to, but would rarely reach. Never was an instant least action a player nonplussed for a moment, and until the objective point, the goal, was reached or an opposing player intercepted it, the ball flashed to and fro with unerring precision and so quickly that it was extremely difficult to follow its course. For instance, when Sibby Nicholls scored the second goal in the first quarter for Vancouver, after following a devious course through the Tecumseh defence, the ball was shot to Lolonde, he tossed it into the air in front of the goal and Nicholls, who was in the midst of several other players, jumped forward and knocked it into the net. It was plainly a preconcerted movement.

As was stated, the Tecumseh never had a ghost of a show. It was the opinion of many that had the Vancouver players so wished they could have piled up a bigger score than they did. The easterners were fast and aggressive at times, but their play was not so clean nor so heady as that of the champions. Another thing that greatly helped towards the result was the fact that Vancouver almost always had the odd man up in the field.

There was one bright shining exception to the general rule of slowness. Newey Lolonde was there with all the tricks and dodges which have made him famous throughout the lacrosse world. He was the life of the game and gave the spectators more chances to cheer than all the rest of the players put together. Even at that Newey did not put himself about to any great extent, but he is so natural a lacrosse player that almost every play of his was in a class by itself. His shooting was something marvellous. From any position at all, with one hand or two, he drove the ball for the net, and with one or two exceptions every shot was accurate. He was directly responsible for three goals and indirectly for about seven. His first score, the third for Vancouver in the first quarter, evoked tremendous applause and was certainly worthy of Newey's great name as a goal-getter. He was running across the mouth of the goal, quite a distance out, with apparently no intention of shooting, when he suddenly flipped the ball in with an underhand swing, taking the goalkeeper so by surprise that he made no effort to block the shot. On another occasion, which demonstrated clearly the fact that Lolonde must have a pair of wrists like steel, he leaned up against a Tecumseh man, thrust his stick around him and shot with terrific force, almost catching Kinsman off his guard again.

One effect, and it must be said that it was a good effect, of the lack of spiritiveness in the game, was the dearth of penalties. Altogether only one player, Rowntree, of the Tecumseh, was ruled off and that was for nothing at all. If anything it was Mathieson, who put up his arm around the goalkeeper, who deserved the penalty. The game was almost devoid of rough work. Mickey Ions and Sibby Nicholls, both of Vancouver, were down for a few moments, the former a couple of times, but they were practically the only ones who suffered at all from hard knocks. On one occasion Rowntree bodied Ions in a very raw manner, but unfortunately the referee did not see it and Rowntree escaped a penalty. Querrie was in his customary cranky mood and enlivened the proceedings with his continual grunting.

PRO SOCCER LEAGUE IN ANNUAL MEETING

Five Clubs on Circuit This Season—Only One From Vancouver

The annual meeting of the B. C. Professional Football League was held at the Dominion hotel last evening and after considerable discussion it was decided to form a five team league this season consisting of Victoria, Vancouver, Nanaimo, Ladysmith and Cumberland. Last year there were two clubs in the Terminal City, the Caledonians (Caldies) and the Vancouver. This year the two will, if arrangements suitable to each can be made, consolidate and enter one team. J. L. Brown, the Cumberland representative, had come down with the evident intention of getting his town into the league no matter what it cost and despite a strong opposition he did so. Con Jones, who was voted to the chair, did not think it would be feasible to have an odd number of teams in the league. If Cumberland came in he thought there should be six and that would necessitate Vancouver again entering two. This, he stated, was practically out of the question because Vancouver, as shown last year, was not able to support two clubs. For awhile it seemed as if Cumberland would be left out and only four, Victoria, Ladysmith, Nanaimo and Vancouver, admitted, but seeing that drastic measures alone would enable him to gain his point Mr. Brown offered on behalf of Cumberland, to play the three first games away from home. If it could do that and make it pay the delegates present thought the Cumberland club had every right to be admitted at any rate it was decided to give it a trial.

The schedule of games will be drawn up as quickly as possible and it is expected that the first game will be played here against Cumberland on Thanksgiving Day.

As regards referees it was agreed that the home clubs should provide at least three or four for the visiting team to choose from.

The election of officers took place as follows: Con Jones, president; J. J. Kirby, manager of the Vancouver Recreation park, secretary.

Those present were: Con Jones, Vancouver (representing Ladysmith); Jno. Steel, Nanaimo; J. L. Brown, Cumberland; R. Sampson, Vancouver; J. Dougan, Victoria, and J. J. Kirby, Vancouver.

Both Connie Mack and "Muggsy" McGraw are confident of the outcome of the world's series. McGraw says: "I haven't seen the Athletics play, but if they beat these boys I believe they have the credit of having done some thing. The Giants will give them a tough fight and I am banking strongly on the youth of my club showing to advantage. The world's series will depend largely upon the pitchers, but I think we are just as strong as that department as the Athletics." Mack says: "Naturally, if I had my choice I would prefer to have the opening game of the world's series played in this city rather than at the Polo grounds in New York. Still, I cannot say that I am disappointed at our failure to win the toss. The decision not to play the opening game until October 14 pleases me very much. It will give us just about the time that I figured it requires to put the Athletics on edge. As to the probable winner of the series, I don't care to make any prediction. The Athletics are a great team and so are the Giants, and the games will tell their own story."

The officials of the B. C. Rugby union have been elected as follows: President, J. C. Keith, Vancouver; vice-presidents, J. E. Miller, Victoria, and W. Hardy, Nanaimo; secretary-treasurer, W. A. Newcombe, Victoria; committee, G. Curran, Nanaimo; R. T. S. Sachs, Vancouver; A. D. R. Scott, Victoria.

The following have been chosen referees for B. C. Rugby games this season: J. Jenkinson, H. Patterson, W. J. T. MacKay, Vancouver; J. H. Gillespie, W. C. Moresby, E. A. Sparks, A. D. B. Scott, Victoria; J. Patterson, T. Watson, Nanaimo.

To-morrow evening Professor G. T. Graham from London, England, will give an exhibition of fancy roller skating at the Assembly rink, Fort Street. Professor Graham has a good name, and his performance should be well worth the seeing. He has only agreed to a one-night engagement, so that local enthusiasts will have only one chance to see what is really high class entertainment can be performed on skates. The entertainment starts at 9 o'clock.

W. Newcombe, of the J. B. A. A. will captain the B. C. Rugby team which goes south this month to play the universities of California and Stanford. J. Ross, of Vancouver, will act as vice-captain. The probable dates for the games are October 25 and 28 against California at Berkeley, November 1 and 4 against Stanford at Stanford.

Ad. Wolgast, champion lightweight of the world, and Matt Wells the English champion, will meet in a ten-round bout at New York on October 28. Wolgast has been guaranteed $22,000 and Wells $10,000, to be placed in their hands before the fight.

The Last Word in Talking Machines

The "Lyric" $30.00

To-day we present the newest musical instrument in the field—a hornless Columbia Graphophone—and at popular prices, too.

These new machines are compact, convenient, portable, ornamental—offering the most effective evidence that the exterior horn can be done away with entirely and yet without the slightest sacrifice of tone quality and with hardly any appreciable lessening of tone volume.

The cabinet is oak, well joined and finished. The motor is a typical soundless Columbia double spring. Plays 10 or 12 inch records.

JUNIOR FOOTBALL

School Leagues Will Be Got Under Way Saturday.

Next Saturday junior football in the city will be got under way. Judging by the fact that several of the teams claim they are a hundred per cent stronger than they were last season, the high school is going to have a hard job holding the championship in the "under 18" league. The schedules have been drawn as follows:

Under 16 Years.

Oct. 14—North Ward vs. Central, at Beacon Hill.
Oct. 21—South Park vs. Geo. Jay, at North Ward park.
Oct. 28—High School vs. North Ward, at North Ward park.
Nov. 4—Central vs. South Park, at North Ward park.
Nov. 11—Geo. Jay vs. High School, at Beacon Hill.
Nov. 18—North Ward vs. South Park, at North Ward park.
Nov. 25—Central vs. High School, at Beacon Hill.

Dec. 2—Geo. Jay vs. North Ward, at North Ward park.
Dec. 9—South Park vs. High School, at Beacon Hill.
Dec. 16—Geo. Jay vs. Central, at North Ward park.

Under 14 Years.

Oct. 14—Geo. Jay vs. South Park, at North Ward park.
Oct. 21—Moss Street vs. North Ward, at Beacon Hill.
Oct. 28—Victoria West vs. Central, at Beacon Hill.
Nov. 4—Geo. Jay vs. Central, at Beacon Hill.
Nov. 11—South Park vs. North Ward, at North Ward park.
Nov. 18—Central vs. Moss Street, at Beacon Hill.
Nov. 25—Victoria West vs. South Park, at Beacon Hill.
Jan. 6—Central vs. Geo. Jay, at North Ward park.

Jan. 13—Victoria West vs. Moss Street, at North Ward park.
Jan. 20—North Ward vs. Central, at Beacon Hill.
Jan. 27—South Park vs. Victoria West, at Beacon Hill.
Feb. 3—North Ward vs. Geo. Jay, at North Ward park.

YOUNG AIRMAN.

Prowess of an Osborne Cadet Who Has Just Celebrated His Fourteenth Birthday.

Leo Mansfield Robinson, a naval cadet at Osborne, may claim the distinction of being the world's youngest aviator. He has just celebrated his fourteenth birthday, and yet he can guide an aeroplane through the air with skill, coolness, and presence of mind. His instructors at the Brooklands aerodrome feel confident that within a fortnight he will be able to go successfully through the series of tests required to obtain the much-coveted certificate of "pilot-aviator."

"The lad has certainly the makings of a good flyer," Lieut. Porte, of the Duperdun aviation school, says. "He has already made several straight flights in excellent style, and will shortly begin to practice 'turns' in view of the official tests for the 'brevet.' These, you know, consist of tracing figures of eight in the air and flying at a minimum altitude of fifty metres, or about 167 feet."

The machine in which the cadet is being taught the art of flying is a monoplane, of the same type as piloted by Valentine and Vidart in the great air race across Europe. It is

FRANCE AT THE FRONT.

Leads All Nations in Perfection of War Aeroplanes.

Whatever control other powers may have over other elements, France is mistress of the air. Frenchmen have flown over the Channel, the Alps, and the Pyrenees, they have travelled by air from Paris to Madrid, Paris to Rome, Paris to Edinburgh, faster than any other vehicles. Speeds up to one hundred miles an hour have been frequently attained. Last week a French monoplane rose 13,000 feet into the air—that is, to a height of over two and a quarter miles; the week previously a Frenchman, who had only gained his pilot's certificate eight days before that, flew 703 miles in 13½ hours at an average speed of fifty-four miles an hour. In half a day from leaving Paris he could be over Berlin, or Vienna, or Rome. Scores of other men could do likewise. In a few years they can be reckoned by the thousands.

SAVINGS BANK JUBILEE.

A notable jubilee occurred, nothing less than the opening of the Post Office Savings Bank. For many years previous to its establishment many persons—both inside and outside the government service—had had such an institution in view. John Stuart Mill thought it "would be very useful to provide some scheme for making the nation responsible for all amounts deposited." But it was not until Charles Sikes, of Huddersfield, put forward his proposals that anything like a practical scheme was brought to public notice. His long-scherished idea was that of bringing a savings bank "within less than an hour's walk of the fireside of every working man in the kingdom," and the idea of the post office suddenly occurred to him as a means to this end. Mr. Gladstone, then chancellor of the exchequer, saw "much promise" in the plan proposed; Mr. Chetwynd, of the O. P. O., outlined the details of the scheme; Frank Ives Scudamore, receiver and accountant-general, shed a beneficent smile, from a broad and benevolent face, over it; and, although some opponents viewed the plan with "great alarm and regret," it came to pass that, on September 16, 1861, the Post Office Savings Bank came into being, when 300 money order offices were opened for the receipt of deposits. On that day 435 deposits, amounting to 911, were received, and in six weeks' time a large addition to the number of banks opened had to be made. No fewer than 254 banks were opened in October, 238 in November and 74 in December. This was in England alone. The system was extended to Scotland and Ireland in the following February, and by the end of six months no fewer than 2,532 Post Office Savings Banks were in full working order.

BEHIND THE TIMES.

Immortality of the soul is a myth and without scientific foundation, declares Professor Ernest Haeckel, of the University of Jena, Berlin, who is generally considered the world's greatest living scientist and evolutionist. The human soul, asserts Professor Haeckel, is only a purely physical function of the brain cells, and ceases at death. All the productions of the human mind, whether great or small, whether in art, literature or in any other branch of intellectual endeavor are fundamentally mere muscular activities. The immortality of the soul, therefore, says Professor Haeckel, is a myth. Professor Haeckel is now in his 78th year and is still mentally and physically as active as many men of 50.

COLORED BARRISTER ASKS FOR OPINION

Puzzle for Development League From Jamaica Lawyer—Inquiries From U. K.

Inquiries have come into the Vancouver Island Development League in greater number than ever during the last few days. This morning's mail included thirty letters from inquirers from such far removed points as Mauritius in the United Provinces of India, and Taitai, a station on the Blue Nile, to say nothing of innumerable inquiries from all parts of the United Kingdom, the home towns of some of the writers being Belfast, Dublin, Kirkcaldy (Sussex), Southport, Blackpool, Woodhouse, Aberdeen, Edinburgh, Anstruther (Fife), St. Leonards-on-Sea, Carlisle, Wigan and Earlswood.

The Indian inquirer is an officer in a Lancer regiment, who wishes to settle out here; and from the lonely station beside the Blue Nile in the sandy Sudan, a young civil engineer desires to know what chances of following his profession are available in Vancouver Island.

Most curious of all is one from a member of the English bar, but a colored resident of Jamaica, and knowing something of the prejudice against his skin, he asks for information if this would be a deterrent here. It would be presumption to speak for the Law Society of British Columbia, but the problem is one to puzzle the brains of any publicity commissioner, and how to frame an answer will be a delicate task.

ALL PRICES F.O.B. WALKERVILLE, ONTARIO

FORD Model T for 1912 is the same high-priced quality car as it was in 1911; the same scientifically accurate and simple design, the same heat-treated Vanadium Steel construction.

There have been no mistakes to correct—no experiments to try out—but conveniences have been added and a marked reduction in price made possible through larger production and added factory facilities.

There are no "ifs," "ands," "buts," "bluffs" or "exceptions." 75,000 FORD Model T cars will be built and sold in 1912, because our investigation of conditions in every part of the world shows us there is a demand for this quantity of FORD Model T cars. We are not estimating, or guessing, or taking chances. We know.

With our large selling organization consisting of distributing stations scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific Coast, our business fingers are on the pulse of trade conditions. We know from the insistent demand, that it will take many more FORD Model T cars to supply the wants of 1912, than in any previous year.

This demand exists only because FORD Model T has "made good" with more than 100,000 owners. You cannot get any better evidence of reliability. FORD Model T must be a high quality car—it must be all we claim to give so very many individual owners such continuous satisfaction. Only a perfectly organized factory, with every modern facility turning out of a standardized product could build cars in such large quantities, regularly day after day, and keep every promise of delivery on the days appointed. We have our plans, our materials, and our organization ready now to begin our 1912 Fords. Large as 1912 output may seem, it is but our normal production working in our present factory, under ordinary conditions.

The Ford factory at Walkerville, Ont., is conceded by all leading technical experts to be the most compact, concise and efficient automobile factory in Canada. It is situated directly across the border from the Detroit factory, and has all the advantages that can be gained by frequent personal contact with Mr. Henry Ford, the designer of Ford cars, and the pioneer builder of motor cars on the American Continent.

The Ford Motor Company devote all efforts to the building of one model, thus assuring a degree of efficiency (because of continued familiarity of the employees with their work), not possible where several models are being constructed, and where the workmen are switched from one piece of work to another.

The Ford factory is running continuously twelve months in the year. The workmen are never bothered with the troublesome thought of being "laid off" for awhile. They know their employment is secure as long as they are efficient and industrious.

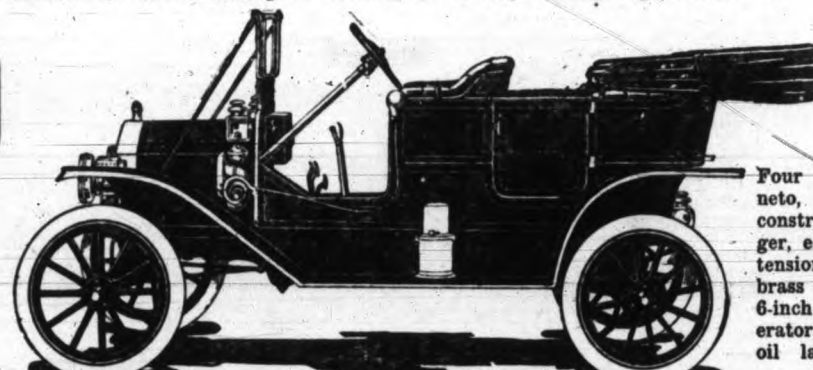

Still another fact lies in the simplicity of the design of FORD Model T. It is a quicker car to build because there are few parts and nothing intricate. So simple, that any ordinary individual understands it readily.

The Ford Motor Company has the financial strength to build this large output of FORD Model T cars without borrowing a dollar. They will pay spot cash, take advantage of every discount, and hence have the market of supplies at their command. Think of the force for low prices which we command when buying in connection with the big factory at

Is this not the motor car you want? Prompt delivery assured.

NIPPON LINER HERE LATE IN AFTERNOON

Inaba Maru, With Rich Silk Cargo, Will Dock To-morrow—Many Passengers

Late to-morrow afternoon the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Inaba Maru will tie up at the outer wharves, after a passage of fifteen days from Yokohama and other Oriental ports. Wireless messages have been received from the steamer during the past few days, and last night at 8.30 o'clock she gave her position as being lat. 49.05 north and long. 137.06 west. Her skipper stated that he would be at William Head about 5 o'clock to-morrow afternoon, and she will reach the docks about 10 o'clock.

Beneath the hatches of the Maru are several thousand tons of general freight for Victoria and Sound ports. She will not get away from here for Seattle until late to-morrow night as she has several hundred tons to discharge at the outer wharves. The silk shipment aboard the Maru totals 1,000 bales, and is valued at over half a million dollars. Besides this she has 667 cases of Japanese bulbs, sugar, rice and considerable general merchandise.

According to her schedule the Canadian-Mexican liner Lonsdale, Captain Bates, should leave here on Sunday, but no doubt she will be several days behind time as she was considerably delayed in reaching here from Salina Cruz. She has finished discharging her northbound freight at Vancouver, and is now at the Fraser river mills loading lumber for the south. The Lonsdale will also take on a large consignment of coal at Union Bay, and will have a capacity load when she sails.

Another Oriental liner due in port this week is the R. M. S. Empress of Japan, Capt. Robinson. She is scheduled to arrive on Saturday, but should be here on Friday morning. As usual the white liner has a big shipment of silk amounting to over a million dollars. She also has a large cargo general merchandise in her hold, of which several hundred tons is for Victoria. Many passengers are aboard the big steamer, including a large number of Orientals.

VESSELS HURRYING TO ASSIST EUREKA

Revenue Cutter Bear and Steamer Corwin Racing From Nome

Bound for the scene of the wreck of the steamer Eureka, the United States revenue cutter Bear and the steamer Corwin are hurrying from Nome. Officials of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company have been unable to get anything like satisfactory information as to the condition of the vessel, but expect a cablegram upon the return of the Bear and Corwin to Nome.

Cable messages from Nome received last Saturday stated that the Eureka (Capt. G. M. Johnson), was deep in the mud near Klavalk, Kotzebue Sound, and the two vessels are hurrying to that port. It is said that nearly 1,000 tons of the Eureka's cargo are being lightered nearly ten miles from their destination. The first effort of the Bear and the Corwin will be to pull the vessel into deep water, and if they are unsuccessful in this, they will aid in taking off the cargo.

The Eureka sailed from Seattle September 3, under charter to the Western Alaska Steamship Company, with shipments for Norton Sound ports.

CHANCELLOR SAILS FROM GOLDEN GATE

Got Away for This Port Yesterday Afternoon—Expected Some Time Thursday

Advice was received here this morning from San Francisco stating that the Harrison liner Chancellor sailed from that port for Victoria yesterday afternoon. It is expected that she will be here some time on Thursday afternoon to discharge freight brought from European ports and also to take on part of her northward bound cargo, which will include several thousand cases of salmon.

Shipping men were expecting the Chancellor here on Sunday night or early yesterday morning, as reports were received that she had left the Golden Gate on Thursday of last week. She will spend about half a day here and then proceed to Vancouver, for which port she has a large consignment of freight.

Another of the Harrison liners, the Crown of Castile, passed up to Vancouver early yesterday morning without stopping at this port. The big vessel made a call at Honolulu. Her cargo consisted of iron, earthenware, liquors, paints, oils, wire, glass, groceries, machinery, and so on. She sailed from Liverpool on July 18 and was reported in Rio de Janeiro on August 10, and Punta Arenas on August 19. She then passed for Honolulu and discharged some freight, and her next call was at San Francisco. After finishing here she will steam to Comox for bunkers, and then proceed to San Francisco, where a full cargo of canned goods is waiting for her on the docks.

Capt. Smith reports a fair passage, but states that the steamer was delayed in Liverpool ten days owing to the transportation strike. The Crown of Castile brought three passengers from Glasgow to Vancouver. These were Mr. and Miss Ross and George Lorimer.

FRISCO'S MARINE NEWS.

James Tuft Has Trying Passage From Newcastle, Australia.

San Francisco, Oct. 10.—The barkentine James Tuft, which has arrived in port from Newcastle, Australia, with coal for J. J. Moore & Co., reports one of the worst passages of her experience. The vessel struggled for thirteen days against a series of terrific gales during the greater part of which time her decks were flooded, and several sails were blown away. The cabin and forecabin were flooded, and the windjammer was 70 days on the voyage and brought 1,711 tons of coal. She will proceed to Puget Sound to load lumber for the west coast after discharging her coal cargo.

Two Japanese lost their lives and several were injured while the Pacific Mail liner Manchuria was coaling off the buoy in the harbor at Nagsasaki. The primitive coal platform which the Japanese run up the sides of the liners and on which they pass up the baskets of coal with the rapidity of a machine collapsed. Passengers on the decks who witnessed the mishap were horrified. The ship's boats were launched and a number of the Japanese were saved from drowning. As the coaling barge belongs to the Japanese, the Pacific Mail Company escapes responsibility.

The little whaling schooner Letitia, Capt. Macomber, outfitted by Oakland parties, has arrived home from a cruise in the far north. She logged 25 days from Bering sea. She had a most successful season, reporting a haul of 760 barrels of sperm oil, 50 barrels of whale oil and 500 barrels of bone. Captain Macomber reported that he sighted the sealing schooner Pescawa on August 31, with an exceptionally good catch.

The Letitia brought the story of the long boat that was overturned by the tail of an angry mammoth. Third Mate Nicholas figured in this adventure, but he and his crew suffered no harm. Later Nicholas fell down a hatch and injured his hand.

FOR AMERICAN SHIPPING.

Portland, Oct. 9.—At a conference held here Saturday representatives of the commercial bodies of Seattle, Tacoma and Portland agreed to work together and with the commercial organizations of other Pacific Coast cities to endeavor to secure free toll through the Panama canal for vessels sailing under the American flag.

TAKES WATER AFTER WEEK SPENT ON WAYS

Steamer Venture Completes Repairs—Resuming Sailings to North

After occupying the B. C. Marine ways for over a week in order to have her hull repaired, the Boscowitz steamer Venture was floated this afternoon at 4 o'clock and in the evening will come around to her dock in the inner harbor. The vessel's hull, which had been pierced in many places by rocks, is now as tight as a bottle and the well-known steamer is ready to resume her sailing to northern British Columbia ports.

One week ago last Sunday the Venture was hauled out on the ways at Esquimalt and ever since a large gang of workmen has been employed in repairing the injuries to her hull. Seven new plates were needed and several of her old frames had to be changed. At the time they were badly twisted. The vessel struck a rock in Seymour Narrows on her last northbound trip, but as her double bottom was not punctured she was able to continue on her trip. On her return she was examined by a diver and it was decided to dock her for repairs.

While the Venture has been on the ways her crew has been kept busy. John Barnsley, manager of the company, states that the steamer will sail for northern ports on Thursday night at 11 o'clock. On her arrival at the Evans, Coleman & Evans dock she will immediately commence loading a large amount of freight, which has accumulated there. The agents report that they have booked many passengers for the trip.

The accident to the Venture occurred at an unfortunate time, as at present there is a great rush of people from the coast towns to Vancouver and Victoria. The Venture, owing to the fact that she visits all the small towns along the B. C. coast, always has her passenger accommodation taxed to the limit on her southbound trips. From now on until the northern business falls off the Venture will give a weekly service with the steamer Valdo.

MARINE NOTES

The steamer J. L. Luckenbach passed the Cape yesterday bound for San Francisco.

The American-Hawaiian liner Mexican is at Bellingham loading salmon shipments for New York and Europe.

The Kosmos liner Sals, with cargo for Puget Sound ports sailed from Antwerp last Friday. The vessel will come by way of San Francisco, and west coast of South American ports.

The Norwegian steamer Admiral Berzon, at San Francisco from Nanaimo with coal for the Western Fuel Co., is under charter to J. J. Moore & Co., to load lumber on the Sound for Australia.

The schooner Rosamond, here in port discharging coal, has been chartered by G. W. McNear to load lumber on Gray's Harbor for Valparaiso at 52s. 6d. This rate shows a very strong market for lumber freight.

The steamship Senator on her last voyage to Nome this year sailed from Seattle at 11 o'clock this morning. The vessel had one of the largest cargoes of perishables ever sent north and a passenger list of fifty.

The Norwegian steamer Solveig, which arrived last night at Frisco from Antwerp with general cargo for Henry Lund & Co., has part cargo for Portland and will steam north in about 10 days. But thus far has no outward fixture.

The British steamer Needles, in the Orient trade, has been chartered to load railroad ties at Mororan, Japan, for Redondo and later to load lumber on the Sound for Japan at a rate of 3s. 10d. per ton register. She will be on the Sound in December.

The Norwegian steamer Titania, formerly in the coal trade on this coast, has been chartered by the American Trading Co. to load lumber on the Sound for Australia. She loaded a similar cargo last June for Melbourne and will come back here from Newcastle with a cargo of coal.

SKIPPER SUSPENDED FOR NEGLIGENCE

Capt. Taafe, of Ramona, Loses Papers for Six Months—Engineer Off for 21 Days

Seattle, Oct. 10.—Found guilty of violation of the federal law governing navigation of steamships, of unskillfulness and negligence, Captain Martin Taafe of the Ramona, which was wrecked September 1 off Spanish Island, yesterday was ordered suspended for six months by United States Inspectors Doring and Lehnert, and Chief Engineer Tucker of the same ship was also found guilty of negligence and violation of federal laws and suspended for 21 days.

The charges laid against Captain Taafe hinged upon the fact that he navigated the steamer at full speed through a dense fog in a dangerous passage. He was also charged with neglecting to avail himself of the deep sea lead to warn him of approaching danger.

The chief engineer was principally charged with not closing the watertight bulkhead doors to check the incoming water.

City of Panama Returns to Frisco—Passengers Pray as Vessel is Battered

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 10.—In a partly disabled condition and with a crowd of nervous passengers aboard, the steamer City of Panama which sailed for Central American ports over a week ago returned to port today to repair the damage done by a storm off the coast of Southern California. The vessel, according to an officer, was the worst experienced in years. Much of the deck cargo was swept overboard by the seas. Mrs. Maria Carpio was swept out of her room by a wave that broke through a weakened bulkhead and was rescued on the deck by sailors.

The vessel, which belongs to the Pacific Mail fleet and is an old-timer in the service, sailed from Ancon on September 29. The storm blew up on the night of October 3 and lasted 16 hours. A message for help was sent out by wireless, but by the time the revenue cutter McCulloch had responded from San Diego, the bad weather was over. Among the injuries reported were the loss of lifeboats, the crippling of the steering gear and the smashing in of the upper deck cabin. During the storm the passengers gathered in the saloon for prayers.

Barkentine Makawell Singing Crew at Port Townsend—Captain Remains Ashore.

Port Townsend, Wash., Oct. 10.—The barkentine Makawell is singing a crew to-day, in preparation for sailing. The barkentine is expected to leave for Lytleton N. Z. to-morrow. Captain Thomas Nelson will remain ashore because of the murder trial of his second mate who on his last voyage, it is alleged, murdered a cabin boy and threw the body over the rail. Captain Langfield takes the Makawell for the trip.

CANAL WILL INCREASE TRADE WITH GERMANY

Better Commercial Conditions
Will Follow Panama
Opening

The commercial relations between the German Empire and the Pacific Northwest are likely to see considerable development with the opening of the Panama Canal, said P. Pulvermann, a representative of one of the largest Berlin drygoods houses, at the Dominion hotel last evening.

There was no doubt that the removal of the surtax on German goods as a result of the negotiations of two years ago had done a great deal to expand business between the two countries, and several of the German houses were opening branches in the large eastern cities, and would doubtless follow suit in the west, as business expanded. His own firm, for instance, was opening in Montreal and Toronto at an early date.

One of the best openings for European houses existed in a country like this, where money was free, and merchants willing to take chances. The German firms were able to enter into successful competition with British on what might be called the medium class of goods, as it was undoubtedly true they were not equal to them in the better grades, owing to the finish given in the largest British factories.

The industrial conditions of Germany he found were very much misunderstood in this country and the United States. The various sections into which the political parties of Germany were split had so brought it about that the conservative portion of the community, which only represented a minority of the electorate, had the power at the present time, and its effect on the industries of the country could not fail to be burdensome. Germany had been the pioneer in national insurance of the artisan, and in other ways had shown herself alive to the requirements of the workingman.

Turning to the great question of world politics, Mr. Pulvermann said he shared the opinion of a large number of his countrymen that war with Great Britain was unthinkable, and that the navy was not aimed at her, although the natural situation of Germany was compelling her to seek an outlet for colonisation. As she came late into the field as a colonising power she had only been able to secure portions of the world which were unsuitable for settling a large population, and somewhere the want must be supplied. He was not going to say where that available country could be found, as practically all the valuable waste places of the world had been annexed by European powers, and those which were yet only partially undeveloped, like the South American republics, were under the protection of the Monroe doctrine.

The number of Germans who left the country annually for new homes overseas had aroused the government, and some means of checking, or directing their flow into other channels was imperative. A better system of advertising the advantages of Canada would in his opinion direct the large flow of immigrants from the German Empire now going to the United States to the northern portion of this continent, and as far as he had been able to see in travelling the country, those who had come to Canada were well satisfied with their lot.

Mr. Pulvermann will remain in the city for some days on business.

FIT OF INSANITY CAUSED SUICIDE

George Smith Took His Own Life—Evidence Deduced at Inquest Yesterday

That George Smith committed suicide while temporarily insane was the finding of the coroner's jury, empanelled yesterday to inquire into his death. Smith shot himself with a revolver in the forehead at his residence, 321 Mason street, on Saturday evening.

In her evidence Mrs. Evelyn Smith, wife of the deceased, said that she came home on Saturday afternoon shortly after 5 o'clock and started to light the fire. Her husband was at home at the time and came to the kitchen door for a moment and looked at her. He then returned to his bedroom without saying a word. A moment or so later she heard the report of the shot and running to the rear residence of a friend, Mrs. Hastings, she returned with her and the ten centured into Mr. Smith's bedroom. The deceased was lying on the bed with his feet dangling over the side and the revolver was on the floor near at hand. Mrs. Smith stated that her husband had not been drinking to excess of late nor had she noticed anything peculiar in his manner. There had been some trouble between him and a young woman, and on Saturday she and the girl had visited the deceased at his place of employment, Tolmie & Stewart's saloon, Yates street, and she, Mrs. Smith, had asked him if a certain statement made by the girl was true. She did not notice whether or not Mr. Smith had been drinking at the time.

Dr. Sinclair testified to death being caused by the wound. The skin flaps charred and reddened about the wound, showing that the revolver had been held close to the forehead. The deceased's breath smelt of liquor.

Mrs. Hastings told of going to the Smith home with Mrs. Smith and trying to stop the flow of blood from the wound in the deceased's forehead. Mr. Smith was unconscious at the time.

The jury took but a few moments to consider on its verdict. The jury was composed of the following: John Black, foreman; C. L. Curry, William Acton, A. Belbeck, V. Ireland and Fred. Bern.

CRAIGFLOWER SCHOOL

Contract for New School Granted—Old Structure Will Be Preserved as Relic.

Ald. W. M. Ross has been granted a contract by the provincial works department for the erection of a new and up-to-date schoolhouse at Craigflower, at a cost of $5,315.

It has not yet been decided what will be done with the old schoolhouse, for despite the fact that it was the first institution of the kind to be built on Vancouver Island, it is still in excellent condition, although, of course, hopelessly inadequate in size and equipment for the demands of the present day. Its historical value is fully appreciated and it is not likely that it will be allowed to fall into a decaying desuetude, but will rather be preserved as an imperishable relic of the pioneer days.

BY-LAWS READY TO BE SUBMITTED

Parks and Library Measures to Go Before People Again—Market Expropriation

At the meeting of the city council this evening the principal business will be the consideration of money by-laws which must be submitted for ratification to the ratepayers at a later date.

The principal one is to authorize the sale of the market hall, and the city hall site, with a view of building at the head of Pandora avenue, but as the fire hall cannot well be moved from the business end of the city, and the citizens have already approved a by-law to alter the westerly end of the market building for police purposes, it seems likely that the police and fire departments must remain in the same neighborhood they are occupying at present. The separation of these two departments would in no wise alter the general scheme, for they are not integral to it.

The two by-laws defeated, the Library and Parks, will be resubmitted, and have to be prepared. The accident by which the expenditure of $5,000 a year was made the maximum to be spent on the Carnegie Library, instead of the minimum, has restricted the development of this important and useful institution, and the proposal to make the maximum $25,000 will provide for the developments of the future, although it is not the intention to spend that money at once, but only as circumstances demand.

The total of $120,000 asked for Park purposes will probably be reduced before going again to the ratepayers, as the sum is thought to be too large, and would again jeopardize its passage.

PASSING SHOW

Empress Theatre.

Manager Wisner opened the week's bill yesterday to satisfactory audiences at the Empress theatre where Irene Hobson and Charles Deland were hailed as the star performers from their tremendous laughing success "A Business Proposal." If there were no proposal, no words to be spoken by the couple and no Charles Deland, but only Irene Hobson herself, the "Business Proposal" would remain a success. As it is with the accessories to form a setting for Miss Hobson it is going to be an enthralling success. Miss Hobson is showing something original in gown and hats and her spectacular appearance holds the eye from the moment she enters the stage.

Another performance that Manager Wisner gets complimented for is the appearance here of Elsie Wales and Mabelle Meredith, the singing girls from Melody Lane, wherever that is. Miss Wales is a soprano and Miss Meredith a contralto. They are displaying educated singing voices in a cycle of songs, a summary of which is that each succeeding one is better than the preceding one, and the first number lifts the audience to its height.

Another singer with a pretty and tuneful voice is the petite little lady in the Quinn-Rosner act. She sings three songs, two of them very well, and the third almost so. The Quinn boys are alive as dance specialists, introducing a novelty in the shape of a dance without music.

Will Cochran, the wee Scotch comic, opened the show with many Scotch jokes and stories that obtained laughter, and the Cliff Bailey trio were at evident pains to please in their athletic knockabout act with barrels. They did much praiseworthy falling and tumbling.

SEEDLESS GRAPE FRUIT

Some interesting facts about the seedless pomelos of Siam are furnished by Mr. J. C. Barnett, agricultural adviser to the Siamese government. There are three kinds of seedless pomelos in Siam, he says, all presenting the same outward appearance, but differing in flavor and inside appearance: two kinds have a sweet taste, but the one has a white milk and the other a red milk; the third kind has a white milk, but the taste strongly approached sour. They are all more or less round (ball shaped), having diameters of from four to six inches. The white is more prolific than the red. The trees grow ten to fifteen feet high, begin bearing at four years old, and continue to bear for more than a quarter of a century. One tree ordinarily produces about 100 pomelos in one year. During the dry season the pomelos yield no seed, but during a rainy season they sometimes contain many seeds. The trees like salt water. When the orchards are not overflooded by the sea water it is the custom to apply two pounds of salt to each tree.

$650 to $800

That is the price of the remaining lots in Monterey Place Addition. These prices are here for the last time, in fact you cannot duplicate them in Monterey at the present moment. Prices are even on the increase in this district.

Every lot that is left—and there are very few of them—is a good one. By good ones we mean that they are large, cleared, level, with soil very suitable for garden purposes. They have all been under cultivation. Not only are these lots good in themselves, but the subdivision is in line for all modern improvements, such as sewers, water, electric lights, telephones, etc.

TREATMENT OF INSOMNIA

When the Case is One for a Physician—Nervous Restfulness.

In considering the treatment of insomnia it is well to treat the subject under two heads—major insomnia and minor insomnia.

Major insomnia, happily, is a disease that concerns few persons, and its treatment is a matter for the trained physician only. It may be associated with severe organic disease or it may be the beginning of acute insanity. These cases of course are neither for home diagnosis nor for home treatment. But almost any one sooner or later and for one reason or another may be called upon to deal with minor insomnia.

In such a case the first thing is to look for the reason. When a person who is habitually a good sleeper has a restless, tossing, wakeful night the reason is generally not hard to find. A mistake has been made somewhere, and in most cases a dietary mistake. The last meal was either too large or too late or it contained some substance that refused to be digested.

The insomnia of indigestion is a particularly disagreeable type, as it is allied with a nervous restlessness which not only forbids the sufferer to sleep but makes him feel as if he would never sleep again, and keeps him turning and tossing in mind as well as in body. This is the kind which makes mountains out of all the molehills, and darkens the thoughts of the coming day.

Discretion is the better part of valor in such a case. It is waste of time to toss and try. Get up speedily and move about for a while, slowly drinking several glasses of water. Realize early that until you have helped your stomach to the victory you will not sleep.

On the other hand an empty stomach may keep you awake just as obstinately as an overfull one. In this case, however, the answer is easy—a cup of hot milk sipped slowly will generally do the deed.

Some people keep themselves awake by getting mentally excited late in the evening, and of all forms of mental excitement anger and fear are the worst. To lie and fight your enemy in your imagination is a sad misuse of the blessed darkness.

Many people find it wise to cool their brains at the end of the day with a little light reading or soothing talk, keeping their problems and their politics for the daytime.

Some fairly good sleepers accuse themselves of insomnia simply because it bores them to lie awake, and every minute is magnified into an hour. These should learn that a little occasional wakefulness is not to be counted a tragedy.—Youth's Companion.

ELK CREEK WATER FOR CHILLIWACK

Will Furnish Ample Supply for Domestic and Fire Protection Purposes

Chilliwack, Oct. 9.—With the latest improvements and additions to the Elk Creek Waterworks Company completed, the system should be on an equality with other systems in towns of a like size.

At the expense of $50,000 the Elk Creek Waterworks Company have put in pipe lines of 19 miles in length. This was done with a desire on the part of the managers of the company to meet the demands of the people of Chilliwack for a first-class system of domestic water supply and fire protection. In the work undertaken by the company under the management of Mr. Kipp, a ten-inch main was put in from the intake at Elk Creek and carried down by way of Rosedale and the Yale road to the reservoir a 12-inch main has duplicated the eight-inch to the city.

At Hazel street a ten-inch branch has been carried round, by way of the Mountain View and Hazel Park Additions and completes a circuit of the city of the main water mains. In addition to these, a last link has been carried down by way of the Prairie Central and connected with the Sardis district, thus giving to the company almost a complete circuit of the valley.

The insurance rates existing in this city should be very much reduced if the improvements to the system will give the pressure expected of it for fire fighting purposes. There is every reason to expect that it will, as there are mains enough and water enough to supply a town of 50,000 of a population.

TRAIN SERVICE ON

CANADIAN N. E. ROAD

Line to Red Cliff Mine From Stewart Has All Been Ballasted

Stewart, Oct. 9.—With the completion of grading on first section of the Canadian Northern Eastern railway it is expected that early next month a regular schedule will be inaugurated as far as the Red Cliff. The train will be a mixed one. The hours of departure and arrival, tariff, fares, etc., are yet to be announced.

Work has been rushed the past week in finishing the ballasting of the spur to the Red Cliff mine, and in the driving of the pipes for the turn table. Work will be completed in a few days, a crew of 20 odd men being concentrated at Red Cliff.

An exploration party has left for the interior to connect up with another party in the vicinity of Fort Connelley. It is reliably reported that Chief Engineer D. O. Lewis has already submitted a preliminary survey of the line eastward through the Bear river pass, where a tunnel of less than 2,000 feet in length will have to be driven to negotiate the land to the north of Meziadin lake, the proposed route then skirting the north eastern portion of that stretch of inland water. No other surveys have been made, but it is hardly likely that any further reconnaissance will be made before next spring.

MANY VOTERS REGISTER

New Westminster, Oct. 9.—That the people of this district are extremely anxious to exercise the franchise is shown by the fact that over 250 persons have made application to be placed on the list.

The majority of these declarations were made after election day, September 21, and will be placed on the list after the next court of revision, which will be held in the court house here on the first Monday in November. Stephen H. Hoskins, recorder of votes, will preside.

FATAL ACCIDENT

Hedley, Oct. 9.—Word has just reached Hedley of a fatal accident at Fairview. George Burnell was driving in a load of hay and in going down a hill the brake gave out and the load was precipitated on to the front of the wagon and the load went over him. Dr. White was summoned from Penitence and did all he could for the injured man, but the injuries were too great and he died on Wednesday afternoon.

The bereaved family have the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in the Okanagan and Similkameen where deceased was known, and highly esteemed.

PRESENTATION MADE

Revelstoke, Oct. 9.—Wednesday evening last, at the regular meeting of Mountain View camp, 229, W. O. W., the recording secretary, Sov. A. E. Hanson, was presented with a set of silver table cutlery as a token of his fellow sovereigns' esteem and in view of his recent marriage.

In making the presentation on behalf of the camp, Sov. Edwards, the con. com., referred in eulogistic terms to the untiring and enthusiastic manner in which Sov. Hanson worked for Woodcraft, and for the upbuilding of the lodge, and wished Mr. and Mrs. Hanson much prosperity and happiness.

INDIANS HOLD BIG POTLATCH AT SARDIS

High Jinks and Capers Cut—Feather and Warpaint in Evidence

Sardis, Oct. 9.—There were heaping dollops last week. At the B. C. Hop Company's hop picking camps, the seven hundred Indians employed by the firm and hundreds from the reservations of the valley, met to hear Mathias Capilano, the head chief of the Siwash tribes in British Columbia talk politics. It was a curious meeting, the whites invited the Indians from the hop field all the tribes of Indians from the northern boundary of California. Chief Mathias spoke to the audience, who were reclining or seated on the grass in front of a platform decorated with bunting, of the various glaring injustices that his race has suffered at the hands of the "pale faces" since the whites invaded their shores. The language he used was the simplest, surely—the Chinook—as only through this medium could he make himself understood.

The Siwash is still much of a child, the result of ages of savagery, and at the most, sixty years of civilization. Mathias, who is somewhat of a diplomat, fully conscious of this fact, made an appeal to their feelings, as while they have little intelligence they have strong sympathies. He told them of his trip to England for the coronation, how he had gone over in a heaping canoe, and his crude impressions of the functions of royalty. He was mainly to get better conditions for his race and especially to adjust their grievances in regard to land. Their land is, he claimed, as it becomes more valuable, restricted, and previous governmental promises being repudiated. He told his children of the many injustices they had suffered and were suffering.

He is, he said, going to Ottawa again for three reasons. The first of these is that he wants the Indians to hold land, as do the whites. He wants compensation for lands recently taken away from his race as in Capilano and at Sardis. He also wants his race to be permitted to conduct business on the reservation as do the whites. This is my country, the country of my fathers for thousands of years, and now all I get is work. Into the word "work" he put much scorn.

On the platform with Mathias were Chief Joe, of Matsqui, Joe of Chilliwack and Bill of Duncan. All these had a more or less lucid kick, which they registered in volumes of Chinook. At seven p.m., after four hours of strenuous talking, some eighty bucks and Klutches, with painted faces and sandy uniforms, held the native dance, surrounded by a circle of the bon ton of Siwashdom and some one hundred whites, who were interested in seeing the curious dance.

The dance, which took place on the torch lighted grass in the centre of the circle of camps, was a great sight on the nature of the race, and shows how very thin is the veneer of civilization with which we have been coated. The central figure of the dance was a big, strapping buck with his face gorgeously painted in red and black, wearing a crown of straw and a spear. With the spear he went through a series of pantomimes, his body in rhythm with the beating of drums, the foot of horns, and the beating of sticks and rattles. Outside of this central figure the dance consisted of a series of muscular movements of the body, of a lot of harsh guttural noises and jumping up and down, the whole body in motion to the noise, as music it surely was not, although it had a certain dignity of discords. Throughout the dance was far more "feeling" than graceful, although the Indians present seemed to find the contortions extremely interesting, especially those of a strapping buck dressed in a nightgown and underwear.

B. C. ELECTRIC CO.'S INTERURBAN LINES

Improving Mainland Lines and Adding Safeguards—Proposed Cut-Off

New Westminster, Oct. 9.—With the intention of bringing the interurban service to a high point of efficiency, the B.C. Electric Railway Company has made arrangements to spend a large sum of money to improve the main line service with Westinghouse multiple unit controls, which will enable such cars to form in a train and be operated by the motorman on the first car. This involves extensive alterations to the truck bodies, and is being done as the various cars are sent to the repair shops in the ordinary routine. When this improvement has been completed it is the company's intention to operate two-car trains, or longer if necessary, between Vancouver and New Westminster, which they will be enabled to do by the completion of the Highland Park cut-off, eliminating the Twelfth street. The grade on the cut-off is only two per cent.

The company's engineers are still making surveys of alternative routes for this cut-off, but it is expected that the line will be built and in operation by the end of this year. When this is done, the present line from Highland Park to Edmonds will be a city extension in connection with the Queen's Park and other city lines, all interurban business on the main line being routed over the cut-off.

ABNORMAL WEATHER CONDITIONS ARE PAST

Atmospheric Lecture Before Natural History Society—F. N. Denison Tells of Belts

The tilting of atmospheric belts is the possible cause of a phenomenal succession of happenings in the past year, according to a lecture made last night by F. Napier Denison, F. R. Met. Soc., before the B. C. Natural History Society. Mr. Denison gave the audience the benefit of his theories regarding weather conditions, storm, etc., and read through a catalogue of atmospheric events that have occurred during the past twelve months that surprised his hearers, the majority of whom had gone on living just the same and were unaware of the atmospheric frolics and flirtations going on around them.

An almost unprecedented frequency of abnormal weather conditions, said Mr. Denison, had been noted between October, 1910, and the present month. He proceeded to illustrate his point by almost diurnal extracts from a record he had kept of telegraphic news affecting weather conditions all over the world, of which the following are some of the most interesting and significant: Starting in October of last year he had recorded on October 6 great floods extending over the United States from Texas to Pennsylvania, which he described geographically as "almost an inland sea." Barely a week after the greatest storm for ten years was experienced round the coast of Great Britain and in the North Sea. On the 24th of that month Vesuvius was in eruption and over 400 lives were lost in a terrible storm that swept over Southern Italy. Two days later a report came from Alaska that between three and four feet of snow had fallen as far as 100 miles inland. On November 8 Red River was frozen—the earliest time for 15 years. Three days later came news of the abnormal rains and disastrous floods in France, following similar news from the Rhine valley. Three thousand farms in France were inundated by December 3, and unprecedented cold was at the same time reported in Florida. From the 10th to the 13th it was Italy's turn to be flooded; on the 16th England suffered the worst floods known for 45 years; and on the 24th a great storm and floods in China destroyed a tract of country 33 miles broad and 60 long. About the same time there was a record snow fall on the Canadian prairies, and about six inches of snow fell in Palestine—where, needless to say, snow is almost unknown.

The present year started with a severe gale on the 9th of January, when the barometer in Victoria went down to the extraordinary low figure of 28.83. This was followed three days after by a terrific gale on the east coast of England, doing enormous damage, while there was an abnormal fall of snow in the Rockies. As far south as San Francisco there was no less than 17 days' incessant rain during this joyous January, this place registering the heaviest fall in 50 years.

It ended by a cloudburst in South Australia, which wrecked a train, causing terrible loss of life. February started with Vesuvius again in eruption, while Ontario experienced the worst snowstorm in the past 20 years. In a great gale which raged around the Spanish coast on February 3, 300 lives were lost. Two days later news came that through a cloudburst in Melbourne, the low parts of the city were under five feet of water. Four days unprecedented rainstorms in California unfolded in March. On March 9 a terrific cyclone swept a tract of land in Australia, three miles by ten, destroying even the giant gum trees in its relentless course. Several men were killed in another cloudburst in Melbourne, when four inches of rain fell in a few hours. On March 17 the S. S. Pythia arrived at St. John's, after taking 17 days to come from Glasgow through "hurricane after hurricane." A waterpout in the Straits of Messina caused considerable loss of life. The month ended with a cyclone in Alabama, which destroyed a hundred farms. This season's record also included the loss of 125 fishermen's lives on the northeast coast of Canada.

Phenomenal conditions continued in April when hundreds of thousands of sheep perished in Central Turkey in the most intense cold known in the memory of the nation; while in Queensland, between April 3 and 5, there was a rainfall in the three days of no less than 63 inches. In April also, snow was reported in Tennessee, the farthest south known in the history of the States. By the 20th of May, however, there were forest fires all over the continent, while the thermometer rose in Chicago to 93 degrees in the shade. By August 9 the world may be said to have been melting under an extraordinary heat wave. The "hottest known" was reached in London with the thermometer at 97, and 100 at Greenwich. A unique plague of wasps invaded London on August 13, and seven weeks of heat and drought made the summer of 1911 the most disastrous to child life during the present generation. From the lowest death rate and healthiest of the world's great cities, London became the second most unhealthy city in the world, the death rate rising to 19 per thousand, while Paris went a declamatory—better—rather worse. Throughout September came terrible records of great forest fires and much loss of life. Berlin registered 97 in the shade, Paris 99. Hurricanes heralded October, while the continued and unprecedented summer heat affected the Swiss Alps so much that Mount Blanc, by the melting of its glaciers, lost several yards in height, and ice centuries old, was exposed to view, and melted under the all-devouring sun for the first time in Alpine history.

In considering these abnormal weather conditions throughout the past twelve months, Mr. Napier Denison suggested that the force which brings about the tilting of the earth's surface, may be the same as that which causes the swinging of the atmospheric belts. Abnormal conditions were recorded in 1900, when the sun was freest from sunspots. The disappearance of these sunspots which have a periodicity of eleven years, had occurred again this year. What relation was there between the absence of these sunspots and the coincidental abnormalities in climatic conditions? asked Mr. Denison. Was this periodical phenomenon a cause of such abnormal weather? Meteorologists held that changes of climate were due to the "swinging" of atmospheric pressure. Another interesting point raised by the lecturer as a possible influence on the abnormalities of 1911, was the tilting of the earth's pole, on which the earth is said to spin at the rate of some thousand miles an hour. He suggested that the force which brings about the tilting of the earth's pole might be the same as that which causes the swinging of the atmospheric belts. Sunspots were known to be influenced by the proximity of the planets. In this connection Mr. Denison discussed the discovery of Dr. Hecker, of Berlin, that the moon not only influenced the ocean tides, but also a "tide" on the earth's crust, and concluded by pointing out that the periodicity of sunspots, and terrestrial magnetism had already been proved, to in a larger measure, to coincide.

Dr. Hasell, Herr Loewenberg and others took part in the discussion which followed, after which a vote of thanks to Mr. Denison for his lecture was carried with enthusiasm.

At the business meetings of the Natural History Society, preceding the lecture, Mr. Anderson handed over some specimens of shells in excellent condition, including a specimen of the Fairfield and James Bay districts were remembered by some old Indians as islands. From the site of the Empress back and round to Fairfield's had undoubtedly been the sea, making James Bay an island. The shells produced had been found between six and eight feet underground and were undoubtedly alive when buried.

A. J. Woodward said that from personal observation the sea had encroached on Ross Bay two feet in the last 25 years. Dr. Hasell and Mr. Denison supported Mr. Anderson's contention, deducing evidence from the discovery of shells made during the last 20 years in various parts of the city, some of which undoubtedly alive when deposited, were found buried in two or three feet of alluvium.

SHATTERED KINE-CAMERA.

Moving Picture Man Got Too Near an Explosion.

R. S. Stafford, of Winnipeg, who was for several days engaged securing material in the locality of the shattering moving picture films, had a narrow escape while taking pictures of grading operations on the G. T. P. south of town.

He was endeavoring to secure pictures of a blast which was being made to dislodge a large boulder, and on the explosion taking place the air around him was suddenly filled with fragments of all sizes, one large boulder weighing in the neighborhood of one hundred pounds falling within a few feet of where he stood.

Unfortunately, notwithstanding the risk taken, the pictures were not a success, the roll of film becoming entangled in the machine.

Mr. Stafford took away with him 1,000 feet of film in all, showing scenes of various kinds around Battleford, including harvesting operations.

THE ADVANCE MAN

Sam Bernard To-Night.

Sam Bernard, who is the most popular German comedian in America, is on his first transcontinental tour to the Pacific Coast. Mr. Bernard, who appears under the management of the Messrs. Schubert, has always been so popular in New York city, that he has had less occasion to less opportunity for touring than most of his competitors. He has never before been west of Omaha, and finally consented to make the trip partly out of curiosity and partly as a result of hundreds of urgent requests from local managers of the far western cities, where the public has never had a chance to see this great Broadway favorite, and know him only by reputation.

Mr. Bernard's vehicle for his tour is "He Came From Milwaukee," the piece in which he starred for several months last season at the Casino theatre in New York and which was generally proclaimed to be the best vehicle he has ever had. The book is by Mark Swan and Edgar Smith, the lyrics are by Edward Madden, and the music is by Ben. M. Jerome. McLaughlin and Louis A. Hirsch. The first act shows a hotel at Ostend, the famous Belgian seaside resort, and the second takes place in front of the Palace of Zorach.

As the title of "He Came From Milwaukee" might suggest, Mr. Bernard plays the role of a German-American who good-naturedly consents to impersonate the Prince of an ultra-seditious Bohemian land, and thereby gets himself into a very complicated and ludicrous situation. Mr. Bernard's supporting company, which is essentially the same one that appeared with him during the long run of "He Came From Milwaukee" last year at the Casino theatre, New York, includes Nella Bergen, Anna Wheaton, Louise Mink, Alice Gordon, George Baldwin, Billie Gaston, John J. Cain, Henry Norman, Charles Burrows and the famous New York Casino chorus.

Sam Bernard in "He Came From Milwaukee" will be seen at the Victoria theatre to-night.

"In Old Kentucky." With the constant changing in the sort of entertainment demanded by the public taste it is remarkable that a play like "In Old Kentucky" can continue year after year and never lose its grasp upon the affections of playgoers. It is certainly a noteworthy example of the survival of the fittest. To-day "In Old Kentucky" is as strong a favorite with theatregoers as ever—its fame is perennial and its appeal is lasting.

The story of the brave little mountain girl and her unselfish devotion to the call of duty has touched a responsive chord in the hearts of American playgoers throughout the entire land. It seems destined to remain the most popular of all dramas of its class. This season's company, with clever Mildred Johnson as the mountain heroine, Bert G. Clark as the untutored Colonel, and an all-around capable cast, will present "In Old Kentucky" in the same splendid style that has always characterized its former presentations, for a superior standard of excellence in company and production has always been maintained in connection with the play.

This year an entirely new and beautiful scenic equipment has been provided. No performance of "In Old Kentucky" would satisfy without the score or more of picturesque examples of the rugged life of the mountain people.

The engagement at the Victoria theatre is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 11. "The Girl in the Taxi."

One of the funniest and most original pieces of "The Girl in the Taxi," the merry sensation from Paris, Berlin, New York, Chicago and Boston, which comes to the Victoria theatre on Thursday, Oct. 12, occurs at the end of the first act. The scene represents the home of John Stewart on Riverside Drive, New York. The hour is about eleven o'clock and every one has said good-night and retired to their rooms. The lights are turned out by a child French maid, and the moonbeams stream in through the windows opening onto the veranda. All is quiet.

Suddenly a door opens and Percy Peters, Mr. Stewart's nephew from Philadelphia, who has come to New York for throat treatment and is supposed to be a very sick man, appears in full evening attire. He closes his door cautiously, locks it, skips over and listens at the other doors, and then, with a laugh, leaves the house to keep a midnight appointment with the "Girl in the Taxi" at Cafe Churchill. He has hardly gone when Papa Stewart cautiously emerges from his room in evening dress, listens at the other doors, and with the remark, "everybody sleeps but father," sails out of the house to meet a couple of chorus girls. No sooner has he gone, however, than Bertie, his innocent and unsuspecting son, comes from his room, tiptoes to the doors of his father and his cousin Percy, and prepares to leave the house. Bertie is hard pushed for money. His father allows him but five dollars a month, hardly enough with which to entertain after the fashion of his elders. His eye catches sight of a beautiful loving-cup which his father has received only that day as a token of appreciation and promptly left on the top of the piano for exhibition purposes. Bertie has no sentiment in the matter. He grabs the silver token and exclaims gleefully, "I know where I can get ten dollars for this." Then he dashes from the house and goes as rapidly as he can to a pawnshop. The expectation aroused at the end of this act as to what will happen in the next has never been excelled in any play yet produced on the American stage.

James-Gogorza Concert. Madame Emma Eames, the great prima donna, who is making a concert tour with Emille de Gogorza this season, appearing at the Victoria theatre under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club on Friday evening, has consented to appear at two gala performances with the Boston Grand Opera company during the winter. She will sing in Tosca and Otello, appearing with Scotti and Zematello. As Boston was her early home and the city where she received her first musical training, there is an especial fitness in this engagement, and the City of Boston is preparing to receive her with all possible distinction. Madame Eames will make no other operatic appearance this season, but with de Gogorza will give a series of recitals in the Northwest, appearing here this week. In January she will make an engagement of thirty-six concerts in the larger cities of the East. Both artists are favorites here, and their engagement is looked forward to with all possible enthusiasm.

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening at St. Paul's church, Nanaimo, the bridegroom being Mr. H. R. Plummer, of Vancouver, and the bride, Miss Mary Robinson, daughter of Mr. Joseph Robinson, Vancouver. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon White and the bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Arthur Aknehead, while Mr. A.
Aknehead supported the groom. The bride looked charming in a grey suit and grey velvet hat with large willow plume. After a brief honeymoon the happy couple return to Vancouver where they will reside.

St. Paul's church, Nanaimo, last Saturday morning, was the scene of an interesting marriage ceremony in which the contracting parties were two well known young people of Nanaimo. The groom was Harry Neville Freeman, youngest son of Mrs. E. A. Freeman, Wallace street, and the bride, Miss Inez Elizabeth Martell, Esplanade. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon White, the groom being supported by Mr. Fred Mackrell, and the bride attended by Miss Mary Freeman, sister of the groom. The bride was given away by her brother Robert, and Mr. Charles Pawlett presided at the organ, rendering music appropriate to the occasion.
Both bride and groom are well and favorably known throughout Nanaimo, and were the recipients of many handsome and valuable presents, among the number being a silver tea service from the Vancouver-Nanaimo Coal Company, a gold watch to Mr. Freeman and a pearl necklace to Miss Martell from the company's employees.

The Evening
Chit-Chat
By Ruth Cameron

"If the sum total of all the unhappiness caused by people who murder and the sum total of all the unhappiness caused by people who tease could be reckoned, which do you think would be the greater?"

Myself, I have not a doubt but that the latter would make the former look like a molehill beside a mountain.

Sometimes I almost wonder if teasing isn't the unpardonable sin.

Perhaps before you decide that I'm altogether talking nonsense I'd better give you an idea of what I mean by teasing.

I know a certain brother and sister who live together, and who are exceptionally fond of each other. The brother is an exemplary brother in most ways. He supports his sister in comfort. He often denies himself for her sake. He is very thoughtful and frequently brings her lovely gifts
when he comes back from business trips. I know he would feel terrible if anything should happen to her and I am sure she adores him.

And yet their home is not a happy one.

Why?

Because he will tease her.

She has the unfortunate trick of mixing up names, and saying just the exact opposite of what she means.

For instance, she will say, "I think I'll wear my thick dress, because it is so warm," when she means "so cold."

Or, she will be telling about a call from her Cousin Ruth, and half the time she will refer to Ruth as Anne,
who is her older sister.

Now what she means is almost always obvious.

And yet the brother is never satisfied to tolerate make the mental correction, and let it go at that. He always laughs, an irritating, nagging little laugh, and says sarcastically,
"You are going to wear a thick dress because it is so warm, are you?"

Or "What's that? I thought you said Ruth was here, and now you are talking about Anne."

Of course that frets his sister and she says something tart in return, and at a moment they are at loggerheads with each other.

Then again, he knows that if he says certain things she will be distressed and will protest and he never finds an opportunity of saying these things and then explaining after the protest comes, "I knew I'd get a rise out of you."

Whereupon the dove of peace again flies out the window, or up the chimney if the window is shut.

And so in this home where peace and harmony might reign there is discord and antagonism just about half the time, all because of these and other little habits of teasing.

Now that's just one illustration of what I mean by teasing. But I guess it's enough to start a train of thought that will take you to some other illustration among your acquaintances or perhaps even in your own family.

And what on earth is the use.
Is it possible that the brother has enough amusement from correcting his
rise out of her" to make up for the discord that fills their home?
Is it possible that any of the people who are always teasing others get enough pleasure to outweigh the pain
they inflict?
Isn't it strange to reflect that there are thousands of homes where the members of the family love each other
very dearly and would be heartbroken
over a vacant chair and yet cannot refrain from teasing each other, thus causing those they love so dearly much
unnecessary unhappiness?
To be happy able to make others
happy—it seems to me that this very nearly covers "the whole duty of man."
And think how thoroughly they fail
of it, who tease.

Ruth Cameron

WOMEN IN NEWSPAPER WORK.

magazine and newspaper field are not extraordinary, if we may judge from
the findings recorded in a comprehensive volume on "Vocations for the Trained Woman," published by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston. Of fifteen magazines investigated, only two hold out the hope of women's occupying any higher
place than clerk or cashier. One editor
was in a position to promise a slow advance from a clerkship at $6 a week, to the headship of the department at fifteen or eighteen dollars.
Eight editors state that the chances
of rising to positions of responsibility
are almost as good for educated women as for men, but their estimates
of maximum earnings indicate that a position of responsibility means "one thing to a man and another thing to a woman, as far as the financial rewards
are concerned." Forty dollars a week would seem to be the very highest income to which a woman may aspire.
The maximum on newspapers in Boston is $35, and the minimum is $8.
Out of forty-nine reporters, editors,
and correspondents, only nineteen were women. Of 228 positions in this number, classified as responsible, not
one was held by a woman.

Milliner is a corruption of "Milan-er" from Milan, which city at one time led Europe in fashions for women.

SKIRT.

Among the advance guard of fall
costs, suits was noticed an extremely quaint but pretty one made from purple taffeta. The skirt was severely plain, and our sketch pictures the cut of coat, which was the piece de resistance. This has pipings of velvet a few shades darker than the silk and
double-looped bows of velvet ribbon,
with silk tassels on ends, are placed on each side at waist line. The old sleeves have huge buttonholes in cuffs, through which velvet ribbon is run and tied in bow at top. A full of white lace finishes
at the hand.

Illustration among your acquaintances
or perhaps even in your own family.

And what on earth is the use.

Is it possible that the brother has
enough amusement from correcting his
sister's little mistakes or "getting a
rise out of her" to make up for the discord that fills their home?

Is it possible that any of the people who are always teasing others get enough pleasure to outweigh the pain
they inflict?

Isn't it strange to reflect that there
are thousands of homes where the members of the family love each other
very dearly and would be heartbroken
over a vacant chair and yet cannot re-

WOMEN IN NEWSPAPER WORK.

The opportunities for women in the
magazine and newspaper field are not extraordinary, if we may judge from
the findings recorded in a comprehensive volume on "Vocations for the Trained Woman," published by the Women's Educational and Industrial
Union of Boston. Of fifteen magazines investigated, only two hold out the
hope of women's occupying any higher
place than clerk or cashier. One editor
was in a position to promise a slow
advance from a clerkship at $6 a
week, to the headship of the department at fifteen or eighteen dollars.
Eight editors state that the chances
of rising to positions of responsibility
are almost as good for educated women as for men, but their estimates
of maximum earnings indicate that a position of responsibility means "one
thing to a man and another thing to a woman, as far as the financial rewards
are concerned." Forty dollars a week
would seem to be the very highest income to which a woman may aspire.
The maximum on newspapers in Boston is $35, and the minimum is $8.
Out of forty-nine reporters, editors,
and correspondents, only nineteen
were women. Of 228 positions in this number, classified as responsible, not
one was held by a woman.

SKIRT.

Among the advance guard of fall
costs, suits was noticed an extremely quaint but pretty one made from purple taffeta. The skirt was severely plain, and our sketch pictures the
cut of coat, which was the piece de resistance. This has pipings of velvet a few shades darker than the silk and
double-looped bows of velvet ribbon,
with silk tassels on ends, are placed on each side at waist line. The old sleeves
have huge buttonholes in cuffs, through which velvet ribbon is run and tied in bow at top. A full of white lace finishes
at the hand.

Illustration among your acquaintances
or perhaps even in your own family.

And what on earth is the use.

Is it possible that the brother has
enough amusement from correcting his
sister's little mistakes or "getting a
rise out of her" to make up for the discord that fills their home?

Is it possible that any of the people who are always teasing others get enough pleasure to outweigh the pain
they inflict?

Isn't it strange to reflect that there
are thousands of homes where the members of the family love each other
very dearly and would be heartbroken
over a vacant chair and yet cannot refrain from teasing each other, thus causing those they love so dearly much
unnecessary unhappiness?

To be happy able to make others
happy—it seems to me that this very nearly covers "the whole duty of man."

STYLE HINTS
of Fall Footwear

These are days when everybody is eager for style news of the new Fall Models for Men, Women and Children. Already hundreds of Victorians have learned that "Hammond's" speak with authority in matters of shoe fashion, and many others will be glad to make—as they surely will—the discovery for themselves.

In our juvenile sections mothers will be glad to note the smart low heel models for growing girls; these models are indeed far more sensible than the military and high heel styles.

Prices on Linen Goods That Defy Competition

Not only on Linen Goods, but all other lines as well, our prices are so low that competition is impossible. The reason for this is that we buy direct from the Oriental Factories, and in such large quantities, for cash, that we can easily quote low prices—prices that no one else could attempt.

MOHAMMEDANS BUILD RAILWAY IN TURKEY

Bad Financed by Prince of the Faithful Throughout the World

The most remarkable railroad in the world is in the course of construction that part of Turkey in Asia broadly known as Arabia. The railway is unusual in many ways, but chiefly because it is built on the faith of the homelands all over the world. The narrow gauge road starts from the town of Damascus, and has only 50 round-trip rate would be sufficient to insure the financial stability of the undertaking. Money was provided for the construction of the road by the 250,000,000 Mahometans scattered in widely separated regions of the globe, and their voluntary contributions to this pious undertaking was besought. So successfully did this scheme work that $14,000,000 was soon collected, and for a time about $12,000,000 was contributed annually by the faithful. This operation involved no responsibilities whatsoever to promoters, headed by Abdul Hamid, former Sultan of Turkey, inasmuch as all these funds were bestowed in form of donation. Thus the road has no shareholders and no bonded indebtedness, its capital being spontaneously wiped off. Labor costs called for no additional expenditures, as the men were drawn from the ranks of the army and no extra pay was awarded them for manual labor on the line. Their only supplementary remuneration for this work consisted in their liberation from military service after expiration of two-thirds of their term. When this sole inducement was in sight volunteers were numerous, and at no time was there felt any difficulty in getting all the labor required. The management was entrusted to the Imperial Hedjaz Railway Commission appointed in 1900, and the construction of the line turned over to army engineers. It must be said that the latter attained remarkable results in the face of such difficulties as the handling of men who were altogether inexperienced in this kind of work, as well as the necessity of carrying on operations in a country infested by hostile Bedouin tribes aware of the impending loss of their secular freedom through the advent of steam engines rolling over steel-bound roadbeds. By the middle of 1905, 500 kilometres had been completed, an average of 120 kilometres a year. Since then work was pushed with increasing rapidity. By September 1, 1907, 672 additional kilometres were open to traffic, and by November, 1908, 500 kilometres more were ready to support the weight of engines and cars, a record advance of almost one kilometre daily. This showing compares very favorably with any made elsewhere, in the light of the numerous obstacles inherent to the geographic conditions prevailing in the country traversed.

The religious character of the undertaking is well evinced by the fact that each train carries a mosque wagon, wherein pilgrims are enabled to perform their devotions in the course of the journey to the sacred cities. Externally, the praying carriage is distinguished from the others only by means of a diminutive minaret 6.5 feet high. The interior is fitted out, according to current religious customs, with carpets on the floor and suitably framed Koranic verses in letters of gold on the walls.

GRIM CHINESE JUSTICE.

Summary Execution of Pirates Raiding Transports.

The summary methods of justice which prevail in China and the grim spectacle afforded by the carrying out of the death penalty for such crimes as piracy are graphically presented in the following account of the seizure by pirates of W. J. Murray, a chemist, of Hongkong, and the subsequent capture and beheading of the pirates by the authorities.

"It is just three months," said Mr. Murray, "since I set sail in a Chinese junk, with ten other Europeans, to a village some 40 miles along the coast called Yang-Tse, where I had some business that required immediate attention. Progress in a junk is naturally slow, and we had some eight miles to accomplish and dusk had fallen when on rounding a small island we were surprised to see a couple of boats coming towards us. The occupants, 30 in number, were all armed to the teeth, and were making gesticulations, whilst the man in the bow ordered our men to stand by. They promptly deserted us by diving overboard and swimming away."

"Seeing it was useless to put up a fight, and having regard to the fact that three of our number were Frenchwomen, we decided to surrender. We were taken in tow by the boats to a place some four miles off our track, and then robbed of practically everything we possessed and left to reach Yang-Tse the best way we could. "On arriving at Yang-Tse we immediately reported the matter to the chief mandarin, who ordered all the junks in harbor to be filled with soldiers and the island to be completely surrounded. In the early morning the soldiers effected a landing, not without some trouble, nearly 40 of them being killed or wounded, and 24 of the pirates were captured. These were brought immediately to Yang-Tse and taken before the mandarin, who, after hearing the evidence, ordered them to be publicly executed on the morrow, and the inhabitants of the villages and towns round about to be notified."

"At 4 o'clock on the following morning the great bell at the prison commenced to toll, and all made their way to the seashore, to the point where the pirates landed, and in full sight of the island where they were captured. The population of the place had practically all arrived when we got to the scene, being formed up in a long line with their backs to the sea. After a wait of some 20 minutes the mandarin with his suite arrived and proceeded to read the verdict and sentence upon the pirates to the crowd. This being done, he despatched his orderly to the governor of the prison demanding the men to be sent to the place of execution immediately.

"On their arrival it was seen that the men came in one single line guarded by a soldier on each side. They were not bound, but walked with heads bent down. Halting immediately in front of the mandarin and some twenty yards from the crowd, they extended to an interval of some two paces. The soldiers then turned, and marched away, leaving them in charge of the headman and his assistant. The priest having finished his chanting, at the signal given by the mandarin the headman proceeded to his task.

"The pirates stood with their backs to the sea. As the executioner approached the first man he ordered him to turn round and kneel on the sand, drawing a large double-edged sword from his belt at the same moment. At a nod from the mandarin he seized the man's pigtail firmly in his left hand and pulled the head forward, and after making a small nick in the neck, as a sort of preliminary, gave his sword a quick twist, and the head was off. He waited for a nod from the mandarin before he proceeded to decapitate another, and so on until all were beheaded. The pirates did not flinch in any way, only a perceptible shudder could be seen in the body when the headman made the preliminary nick. "Poles, with the heads affixed to them, were then fixed into the ground, and left to the gaze of every one for ten days. The bodies of the men were taken and flung into a pit, no service of any sort being held. There was great feasting and rejoicing after the execution, the day being given up to pleasure, the mandarin declaring it to be a public holiday. Relics of the pirates' clothing and their possessions were sold in the afternoon by the headman, the whole of their belongings being part of his fee. This headman is said to hold the record in China, having beheaded no fewer than 500 persons in a year."

CHINESE VS. VOLAPUK.

English Language Growing Daily More Like Chinese.

That the English language grows daily more like Chinese, and that the nearer we get to it the better will our speech be, are assertions made by Dr. Edward Spair of the Canadian Geological Survey, in a lecture at the University of Pennsylvania printed in The Popular Science Monthly. Instead of being a primitive form of language as used to be thought, Chinese, Dr. Spair tells us, is really the latest word in a series of changes, ending in the total loss of inflection or of any way of distinguishing one part of speech from another, except by its position in the sentence. English is progressing rapidly toward this goal. We read:

"The simplest grammatical process, the juxtaposing of words in a definite order, a method made use of to perhaps the greatest extent by Chinese, to a very large extent also by English; the possibilities of the process, from the point of view of grammatical effectiveness may be illustrated by comparing such an English sentence as 'The man killed the bear' with 'The bear killed the man,' the actual words and forms being identical in the two sentences, yet definite case relations being clearly expressed in both. . . . (This) type (of language) characterized by the use of words which allow of no grammatical modification whatever, in other words the so-called isolating type. In a language of this type all relational concepts are expressed by means of the one simple device of juxtaposing words in a definite order, the words themselves remaining unchangeable units that, according to their position in the sentence, receive various relational values. The classical example of such a language is Chinese."

"It was quite customary formerly to look upon three main types of morphology as steps in a process of historical development, the isolating type representing the most primitive form of speech at which it was possible to arrive, the agglutinative coming next in order as a type evolved from the isolating, and the inflective as the latest and so-called highest type of all. Further study, however, has shown that there is little to support this theory of evolution of types. The Chinese language, for instance, so far from being typical of a primitive stage, as used to be asserted, has been quite conclusively proven by internal and comparative evidence to be the resultant of a long process of simplification from an agglutinative type of language. English itself, in its historical affiliations as an inflective language, has ceased to be clear example of the inflective type and may perhaps be said to be all isolating language in the making. Nor should we be too hasty in attaching values to the various types and, as is too often done even to-day, look with contempt on the isolating, condescendingly tolerate the agglutinative, and vaunt the superiority of the inflective type. A well-developed agglutinative language may display a more logical system than the typically inflective language. And as for myself, I should not find it ridiculous or even paradoxical if one asserted that the most perfect linguistic form, at least from the point of view of logic, had been attained by Chinese, for here we have a language that, with the simplest possible means at its disposal, can express the most technical or philosophical ideas with absolute lack of ambiguity and with admirable conciseness and directness.

RABBITS AS ARCHAEOLOGISTS.

Unearth Quern Belonging to Prehistoric Ages.

Rabbits have unconsciously been playing the part of antiquarian excavators in North Wales, according to the record on an excursion of the Cambrian Archaeological association to the Promontory Hill Fortness of Parc-y-Melch, on a tree-covered rock over 500 ft. high projecting from the highlands above Abergele into the Vale of Clwyd. The spot has become famous archaeologically by the discovery of some remarkable bronze horse trapping, unearthed at the foot of the hill about 40 years ago. While a discussion on certain peculiarities of construction of one of the ditches was taking place on top of its outer rampart between Professor Boyd Dawkins and Professor J. E. Lloyd, one of the secretaries of the Abergele Antiquarian association declared that he had discovered a stone "saddle" quern under a bush within the fortness. Professor Boyd Dawkins pronounced the quern to be common to the late Bronze and the Prehistoric Iron Ages.

Mr. Cunningham, of the Wiltshire Field club, who had in the meantime perambulated the fortness, now joined the party and produced fragments of Roman pottery and some pot-bollers which he had just picked up at the mouth of a rabbit burrow. This "find" was quickly supplemented by other finds of pottery and bones by Mr. Harold Hughes, of Bangor, brought to light by the excavations of rabbits in an extensive warren within the fortifications. These unexpected "finds" gathered together in the course of half an hour's visit to the site threw much light upon a hitherto mysterious fortness, and enabled Professor Boyd Dawkins to make a definite pronouncement that the fortness had been occupied for a long period extending from the later Bronze and Prehistoric Iron Ages to the end of the second or third century of the Roman occupation.

TO SETTLE TROUBLES.

Samuel Untermyer, in Paris, offers following remedies for some of the industrial problems in United States. National banks should not be allowed to maintain branches and they should not be permitted to underwrite or become interested in any financial scheme. No man or interest should own or be interested in more than one bank or trust company where the concerns are normally competitive. State should take up industrial insurance. There should be federal regulation of the trusts. Capital must recognize and deal directly with organized labor. In Mr. Untermyer's opinion America's two greatest problems are: To curb the concentration of the money power and to regulate and control the industrial competition engaged in interstate commerce.—Boston News Bureau.

DELEGATES SPEAK IN TORONTO PULPITS

Eloquent Addresses Are Heard From Leading Methodist Divines

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 9.—Toronto pulpits were largely under the spell of Methodist delegates yesterday. Two American orators, Bishop Quince and Bishop Warren, failed to reach the city, much to the disappointment of their prospective audiences.

At the Metropolitan church Rev. Chancellor Day, D.D., Sprague, (N. Y.) University, preached in the morning. He is a leading citizen of the republic and gained a wide reputation as a critic of ex-President Roosevelt's policy. His text was Genesis 4:9, and the subject, "My Brother's Keeper." The theme and the manner of the speaker were worthy of the occasion. The sermon was a great exposition of the idea of human responsibility.

"The question," said Chancellor Day, "was Godlike and is the question of every Godlike heart. The answer was that of a man who is a great man. Webster said that his greatest thought was his responsibility to God. That lies at the beginning of things. It is the man who stands under the hand of God and carries his responsibilities through to high places. This question of responsibility had to do with the home, with the social problems, with world-wide missions, with all thinking and acting."

A mass-meeting was held in the afternoon for the purpose of discussing social problems under the head of "Religious Aspects of Industry and Commerce." T. R. Ferens, M.P., Hull, England, presided. Chas. W. Fairbanks, ex-vice-president of the United States, was the first speaker. He showed how religion was at the base of all reforms. It was the church that had stirred public opinion against the Louisiana state lottery, the liquor traffic and other evils. The hope of a pure form of civilization was a pure type of religious life.

Rev. S. S. Henshaw, Leeds, the next speaker, kept the audience busy following his interesting line of thought and applying it to the present. He said, "We are like a man, like to each other. Applied righteousness meant equality between those who were now enjoying working with those who were working without enjoying. It meant employment for every man, fair remuneration for labor, a decent house becoming the dignity of a man, leisure to think, rest, and a sustained maintenance. On the latter point he added:

"We have made a good start in old England, where Lloyd George has led the way. The budget is the foundation of reforms. After the veto bill carries old England will be a new land." He criticized Ramsay MacDonald for saying in his book on Socialism that the Sermon on the Mount was impossible at present. "I don't believe that," Mr. Henshaw affirmed. "It is a pessimistic statement and false to fact. It can be applied when we want it."

R. W. Essex, M.P., who followed, was inclined to take a middle position about the Sermon on the Mount. He thought the Methodists would be as uncomfortable as an over-dressed people caught in the rain if the Sermon on the Mount were applied literally. Mr. Essex held that the age of commercial war had come. He saw problems in China and Africa. "When China sets out for the world's markets," he said, "it will make even the children of Israel sell their clothes." He emphasized the need of facing the new problem from a new angle, the ethical. In this he and Mr. Fairbanks struck the same note. They both showed that the church was a necessity in the progress of the world.

"The golden egg of the church lies before us and not behind us," was the keynote of Rev. Dr. Fitchett's sermon in the Metropolitan pulpit last evening. Mr. Fitchett's wide reputation as a writer on patriotic and religious subjects drew a crowded church and many were turned away. His text was Ex. 15:11: "Doing wonders." He described in a series of word pictures the wonders of earth and sky and sea, quoting from such scientists as Kepler, Darwin and Rutherford. He showed that the God of power in nature was the God of Love who would work equally great wonders in the spiritual realm. "Science is making immortality creditable," he remarked, "and is writing another Bible reinforcing the old one. Those who think a Bible without inspiration, a Christ without divinity, a world without the supernatural would be more creditable are mistaken. Power in the universe is the servant

CORNER STONE

Laid at Kamloops

Methodists of Inland City Will Erect New Structure—The Ceremonies

Kamloops, Oct. 10.—The corner stone of the new $30,000 Methodist church in this city was laid with impressive ceremony Thursday afternoon by Rev. A. E. Roberts on behalf of Mrs. Charles Ladner, wife of the pioneer preacher, Rev. C. Ladner, who was unable to be present owing to ill-health. Among those taking part were Mayor Robinson, who gave an address of congratulation on behalf of the city; Revs. Wiley (Presbyterian); Corey (Baptist); A. E. Roberts (president B. C. conference of the Methodist church); R. J. McIntyre (chairman of Kamloops district); and O. M. Sanford (pastor of the church). The new building will be of brick, and will have ample accommodation for Sunday school and young people's work. A young men's room, handsome and finished, will be a feature of the building.

In the evening the Ladies' Aid gave a New England dinner, which was largely attended. Following the dinner a public meeting was held at which the choir of the church rendered a number of musical selections, and addresses were given by Rev. R. J. McIntyre, of Revelstoke, chairman of the district, and Rev. A. E. Roberts, president of conference.

Rev. A. E. Roberts, president of the B. C. conference of the Methodist church, gave an address on "The Church of To-day." He said, in part, "The church of to-day is a place for worship, whether in a cathedral, or in a country church, or in a lowly country church, it was essentially a place for worship. The institution of the family had been neglected of late years, but it was a good thing for the family to have a regular place in the church and for all the family to sit together. Public worship is necessary for the highest type of manhood and womanhood, and the church auditorium of to-day should be conducive to the spirit of true worship. The church of to-day is a place for Bible study. It is only in recent years that trustees have sought to provide accommodation for the Bible school. Too often this part of the church's activity is carried on in uncomfortable pews, or some dark basement. Less preaching and more Bible study would be of great benefit to the congregations. The ideal is for the morning service to be the Bible school of the whole congregation, men, women and children, and for the evening service to be the one preaching service of the day. The church of to-day is a place for social intercourse and Christian recreation. There should be in every church building a social hall, large enough for banquets and other social gatherings; a well equipped kitchen, a boys' room, a young men's room and a ladies' parlor, and these should be open every evening of the week. The saloon, the pool room, the moving picture theatre are always open and always ready to welcome anyone; but the church too often frowns from its tightly closed doors upon those who come looking for companionship. Religion has been too closely connected with clean linen and black clothes; it needs to be brought into closer contact with the individual in his every day work, his amusements and his recreations. The church of to-day is a place for the study of social and economic conditions. The social teachings of Jesus, the Man of Nazareth, have never been applied, and as yet the church has not made a serious attempt to have these principles applied to business, civic or national life. That oft repeated prayer, "Thy kingdom come," means nothing if it does not mean that the principles of the kingdom of Christ are to rule on earth. The church should endeavor, by education propaganda and by practical example to show that Christ Jesus came to save the world, as well as the individuals in the world.

"The church of to-day is a place where lives are won for Christ. To gain a verdict for Christ should be the object of all church work. To get men to decide to live the Christ-life, to follow His teachings and to obey His commands, this is the supreme work of the church."

It takes a conscientious man to enjoy his work if the pay is small.

ISRAEL ZANGWILL

ON OUR CHURCHES

Says No Creed or Experience Can Take Place of Right Conduct

Israel Zangwill is undoubtedly one of the keenest intellects known to the reading public of the day. No one is less trammeled by prejudice or conventionality, and since his severest criticisms are invariably shot through with humor, he is listened to with quite as much respect as that accorded to Bernard Shaw, and with more sympathy, because no one is ever sure that Shaw is not making fun of him, even though he appears to be his ally. Being an orthodox Jew, Mr. Zangwill is as well qualified as any living man to submit an objective criticism of Christianity, and those who have read his recently published "Italian Fantasies" must have been struck by the force and beauty of many of his remarks upon the Christian churches. Zangwill does not pretend to substitute a new religious system for that which we have at present. He says that while mankind is burning for a new faith, he is not ready to offer it.

Zangwill's chief idea seems to be that one of the worst things that can happen to a church is to grow old. He quotes Thoreau to the effect that the "life of a normally constituted truth is 30 years at the outside, and aged truths are apt to be shockingly thin." So it is with churches; they grow old; their fire abates; their usefulness is lost—and they ought to be put an end to by the state. The latter recommendation is not, perhaps, seriously intended, but the other parts of his proposition have won the approval of such a sound orthodox authority as the Christian Commonwealth, which remarks that since the days of Hare, Maurice, French and Kingsley the desirability of new truth appears to have lost its hold on churchmen, who insist more and more upon old dogma. Zangwill accounts for it by saying that there is a church in the world that it not weighted with pecuniary substance, and he is reminded of St. Paul's exhortation to "lay aside every weight," especially any that so easily be sent as material prosperity.

He continues: "The first generation of a church, or a heresy—the terms are synonymous for every church starts as a heresy—is full to the brim of vitality, fire, revolt, sincerity, spirituality, self-sacrifice. It is a generation in love, a generation exalted and enkindled by the new truth, a generation that will count life and life equally base beside the spreading of the new fire. The second generation 'settles down'—the fervor of its fathers, it has been nourished in the warmth of the doctrine, its education is imprinted with the true fiery stamp. It is near the Holy Ghost. In the third generation the waves radiated from the primal fire have cooled in their passage through time; the original momentum tends to be exhausted. Now is the period of the Pharisees profiting by the martyrdoms of their ancestors, babbling rhetorically between two pleasures—their fidelity to the faith of their fathers. If the third generation of a church can get through with fair spiritual success it is often because of a revival of persecution. But the third generation is absolutely the limit of the spiritual stirring. In the fourth generation you shall ever find the young people sly sceptics or sullen rebels, and the Vicar of Bray coming in for high preferment. Here, then, is the limitation dictated by human nature. The life of a church should be wound up by the state. The birth of a heresy must be free to all, and should be registered like the birth of a child. It would expose its adherents to no disadvantages, either religious or political. But after three generations it must be wound up."

We are all sensible to the power of the expression, "The church of our fathers," and Zangwill would not attempt to combat the feeling and desire it expresses, for under his system it would be possible to reconstitute the church immediately, but under a new name. He goes on to say, "If it started again afresh, the compulsory winding up would have acted as a species of persecution, and thoroughly revitalized the contents of the particular credo.

The third generation would have strained every sinew to realize their faith and bring it home to the young and fourth generation. The latter, ere re-establishing the church, would have rediscovered its truth and thereby given it fresh momentum to carry it through another three generations.

Only by terminating the right to property with the third generation will the churches be saved from asphyxiation, for as he naively remarks, "As long as any institution possesses funds there will never be any lack of persons to administer them."

The churches, he declares, are founded not on the rock of Peter, but on a gold reef, and on this foundation they are jealously guarded by creeds until all thought is excluded. He concludes, "Morals cannot be judged by the fervor and strictness of religious observances. No preaching up of creeds, no forms nor spiritual experiences can take the place of right conduct. The pharisaic error which allows church-going to pass as evidence of piety allows also the profession of a particular creed and the practice of religious ceremonies to pass as evidence of morality."

The "grumble-ometer" is the latest device for keeping cheerful under the stress of modern conditions of life. It is the invention of M. Emil Deutch de la Murthe, of Paris, and simply consists in a list of all the evils which might conceivably befall an ordinary person.

To obtain relief from life's little worries and over-indulgence in one's own pet grievances one has to pull out the list and consult it. Reflection upon horrors that might have befallen is guaranteed to restore the patient's equanimity.

The Journal Excelsior has started a competition to discover the twelve worries which its readers judge to be the most vexations in life. The winning list starts with the death of dear ones, and goes on through unhappy marriage, treachery of friends, illness, money worries, dishonor, parental cares, disappointments, wounded pride, family quarrels, servitude to indigestion, which closes the list.

One specimen "grumble-ometer" sent in included as the principal list that flesh is heir to the weather, old age, tight boots, servants, mothers-in-law, insects, and La Gioconda.—London Daily Mail.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred last evening at her home in Esquimalt of Miss Isabella Jones at the age of 44. Deceased was a sister of the well-known Esquimalt photographer. She had a wide circle of friends and her death will be deeply regretted. Funeral arrangements are being made by the Victoria Undertaking Company and will be announced later.

The remains of Domenico Grilli and his son Salvatore, the two Italians who were killed in the accident at Colwood yesterday, are resting at the Victoria Undertaking Parlor, pending funeral arrangements.

The death occurred last night at 11 o'clock at the family residence, 392 Adenla avenue, of Mrs. Elizabeth Card, aged 55, the wife of Jesse Card. Besides a husband she leaves a daughter. The funeral has been arranged to take place on Friday at 2 p.m. from the Hanna & Thomson chapel, and at 2 p.m. from the St. Barnabas church. Services will be conducted by the Rev. G. G. Miller. Interment will be made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The funeral of the late Harry T. Cole will take place on Thursday from family residence, 122 Dallas road, at 2 p.m., and from St. John's church at 2.45 p.m. Services will be conducted by the Rev. A. J. Stanley. Interment will be made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The funeral of the late Irving Arthur Lemm took place from the family residence, 422 Cook street, yesterday afternoon. Many friends were present to pay their last respects to the well-known gentleman. Services were conducted by the Rev. W. Leslie Clay. Burial was in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The pallbearers at the funeral of the late Neil Grant, which took place from the Hanna & Thomson chapel yesterday afternoon, were: James Patterson, George Knox and F. Soper. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The funeral of the late George Smith took place from the Hanna & Thomson chapel this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Services were conducted by the Rev. W. Campbell. Quite a number of friends attended the funeral. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jane Little took place from the family residence, 1226 Pandora avenue, this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Services were conducted by the Rev. T. E. Holing. The vast number of extremely beautiful floral pieces, with which the casket and hearse was covered, was expressive of the great esteem in which the deceased was held. The attendance of friends was very large. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

DROWNED WHILE HUNTING

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 10.—A drowning accident occurred in Grafton lake, 60 miles from here, in which Dominick Labrador and seven-year-old Charley Pictou, son of Eli Pictou, were the victims. They were moose hunting and while they were trying to make a small island to camp for the night their overloaded canoe filled and upset. The boy's father, Eli Pictou, who was with the party, reached shore on the bottom of the canoe, paddling with his hands. He had tried to save the others but could not keep them afloat.

TO DISCUSS HARBOR DEVELOPMENT SCHEME

Council of Board of Trade Met This Morning and Referred Report to Meeting

Most important among the matters which will come up for the consideration of the quarterly general meeting of the board of trade to be held on Friday afternoon, will be the report of the committee on harbor development. At this morning's meeting of the council of the board of trade, which covers all the improvement work accomplished and that contemplated, was read and the members decided to refer it to the larger gathering. No doubt Friday afternoon will be a profitable time can be spent in reviewing the whole situation.

H. G. Wilson, president of the board of trade, occupied the chair at the meeting to-day. The business before the members was principally the consideration of the committee's report. The president reported that upon learning that an effort is being made to have the railway passenger agents hold their convention in Seattle next year, that he had, on behalf of the board of trade, extended to the association a very cordial invitation to visit Victoria during their stay in the West.

Several interesting reports were presented by the railway committee upon matters of vital importance. One of the reports was the proposal to construct a railway from the coast inland to open up the northern parts of British Columbia as well as the Peace River district. The committee, however, preferred to see the provincial government railways contemplated further advanced before recommending the new work.

This committee also reported on the complaint made by Sooke residents in respect to the location of the new Canadian Northern Railway station in that district. As the honorable minister of railways had been sent similar complaints the committee thought that the board had better not take any action in the matter at present. The subject of telegraphic railways was referred to by the committee. The members considered that the time had arrived when substantial reductions should be made. Increased business appeared to warrant this course. The attention of the council was also directed to the day lettergram service, which is in operation in the United States. This appeared no reason why the same should not be in vogue in Canada.

A letter was received by the secretary from W. D. Scott, superintendent of the Immigration department, at Ottawa, thanking the board for the manner in which the British Press Association was entertained during his visit here. The reports he had received were very satisfactory and he felt sure that the pressmen had had a pleasant time in Victoria.

The monthly meeting of the Political Equality League is to be held at the society's rooms, 604 Yates street, this evening at 8 o'clock. Instead of Wednesday evening of next week, when the league are giving a promenade concert in the ballroom of the Alexandra Club. This evening's address, which it is hoped many will come to hear, will be given by Mrs. Baer. A full attendance of members is requested as several important business matters are to be discussed.

To-morrow evening in Institute hall Henry George, Jr., son of the founder of the single tax philosophy, will deliver a lecture on the progress of the single tax idea. Partly out of interest in the single tax movement and partly because of its marked advance among economists during recent years the lecturer will no doubt find himself greeted with a large and select audience. Hon. Richard McBride will occupy the chair. The lecture is under the auspices of the local organization, and one in the present lecturing itinerary of Mr. Henry George.

MRS. EDDY'S WILL. Massachusetts Fails to Secure Inheritance Tax.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 10.—The legal domicile of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of the Christian Science church, at the time of her death, was at Concord, N. H., not here, according to the ruling of Associate Justice James M. Morton, of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial court to-day. At the time of Mrs. Eddy's death she was "temporarily residing" in Massachusetts.

The decision disposes of the contention of Attorney-General Swift, of Massachusetts, that the inheritance tax should be paid to this state. The court also found that the Suffolk county probate court on the ancillary proceedings rightfully allowed as a foreign will a copy of Mrs. Eddy's will.

To-day's decision leaves as the only question to be decided by the Massachusetts court the right of the Christian Science church to receive under the will of Mrs. Eddy real estate not held by trustees and exceeding $2,000,000 in value. The statute limits income from a bequest to a church in any one year to $2,000.

SETTLEMENT RUMORED. Fernie, Oct. 10.—A mass meeting of the Gladstone local is now in progress here, and well defined statements are being made in the streets that a basis of settlement had been reached by the operators and President White. This proposition runs along the line of the Gordon recommendations, with some slight variations. It may be taken as positive that some proposition is now under consideration and that International President White favors its acceptance. Such being the case, a settlement is now in sight and as soon as details are arranged, work will be resumed.

Naval experts state that the active life of a modern battleship is usually about fifteen years. A hundred years ago battleships lasted almost six times as long.

AN AUTOMOBILE CHASE. Greenville, S. C., Oct. 10.—Somewhere between this place and Spartanburg, S. C., an automobile chase is in progress, with the life of a negro at stake. The negro is being taken to Spartanburg to escape ten automobiles full of men, who undoubtedly will lynch him if caught. He was rushed from Anderson by officers after being arrested for an attack on a little girl. They beat the mob into this town by ten minutes, transferred their prisoner to another machine and departed.

VANDERBILT HORSE WON. Paris, Oct. 10.—The Prix du Seine at Orleans of $4,000, distance 7 furlongs, run at Maisons Laiffite to-day, was won by W. K. Vanderbilt's Monrose II. Frank J. Gould's Jarroldine came in second.

NATIONALISTS GET RECOGNITION

PROTESTANT QUEBEC IS WITHOUT A PORTFOLIO

Corporate and Protected Interests Well Looked After in Borden Cabinet

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 10.—The announcement of the cabinet with its last-minute changes from the original forecast has caused much comment among politicians here. Most significant is the complete victory of the Nationalist element in asserting their claims to the spoils of victory. Monk gets the largest spending department, Pelletier, who was supported by the Nationalists as against such a prominent old-line Conservative as T. Chas. Casgrain, whom Borden preferred, gets the Post Office Department, with all its influence and patronage, and the inclusion of Nantel was also done at the instigation of Bourassa.

Perley is not given a portfolio and consequently, for the first time since Confederation, Protestant Quebec is not represented by a portfolio. In Ontario the exclusion of Andrew Broder, a member of the House since 1896, who had Democratic principles, is also significant. The farmers will have to be content with only an aristocratic horticulturist, Burrell, as their representative.

The cabinet is palpably representative principally of corporate and protected interests. There are at least four millionaires among its members. The only minister not sworn in was Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, who has not yet come from the west.

Disputed Toronto Tory. Toronto, Oct. 10.—The Telegram's whole editorial on Borden's cabinet to-day consists of "Oh, what's the use?" quite evidently John Ross Robertson's opinion on its Quebec end.

The Star (Liberal) editorially says: "The alliance between Mr. Borden and the Nationalists is apparent in the formation of the cabinet. Monk, Nantel, Pelletier. All these Nationalists are taken into the cabinet and all have portfolios. To Mr. Monk goes the spending department of public works. The fact of these appointments is so significant as to require no comment. It remains to be seen whether the Nationalist element will be able to carry out its policy or whether Mr. Borden will adopt and extend the policy of his predecessors."

STEAMBOAT BURNS TO THE WATER'S EDGE

Perdita Went Up Like Tinder but Not a Life Was Lost

Seattle, Oct. 10.—The Sound steamboat Perdita of the Inland Navigation Company caught fire at 7.30 this morning, while ten miles off Port Ludlow, and burned to the water's edge. The wreck of the Perdita will go on record as the "biggest" marine disaster in the history of Sound shipping, for although this vessel, carrying passengers and crew, burned like tinder, driving all on board into the icy Sound waters, not a single lifeboat could be safely launched, and in spite of the fact that all hands drilled about in the water half an hour before help arrived, there was not a single death or near fatality.

The twenty-one men of the crew of the vessel and passengers arrived here at noon to-day.

Muffled explosions were followed by fire, and in thirty seconds the boat was wrapped in flames. The vessel was proceeding at full speed, and it could not be stopped because the engine was inoperative.

Captain McAlpin then ordered the doors torn from the boat and threw overboard, after which all hands buckled on the cork life-preservers and leaped overboard. When Captain McAlpin found that his charges were all floating safely, each one clinging to a door or piece of wood, he and the first officer, Charles Stanley, left the doomed vessel. They were rescued half an hour later.

FLOODS EXTENDING. Lacrosse, Wis., Oct. 10.—The Black river flood which wiped out the business section of Black River Falls Friday and Saturday, now spreads over the entire Mississippi valley, extending from the Minnesota to the Wisconsin bluffs, by merging with the larger river nine miles north of here. Thousands of acres are inundated. The Mississippi river is dotted with wreckage.

ROYALISTS GET BEST OF IT. Lisbon, Oct. 10 (via frontier).—The Royalist entrenched near the Galician frontier were attacked by Republicans yesterday. They responded with a hot fire from behind rocks and wooded heights, compelling the government troops to retire. The Republican artillery was useless. The Royalists had a great advantage in their positions in natural and artificial caves which protected them from shells.

A WONDERFUL RECORD. London, Oct. 10.—To-night's papers make much of Lord Strathcona's ten-thousand-mile journey to Ottawa and back in seventeen days. His Lordship told the admiring pressmen who surrounded him on his arrival at Euston to-day that some day ninety will be near middle age men's lives. He has in his lifetime made considerably over one hundred voyages across the Atlantic.

TRAGEDY OF PRINCESS WITH TEMPERAMENT

Revolt Against Restrictions of Court Etiquette Happily Wedded to King

Those who possess a grain of understanding will realize how awful the life of young Princess and Princesses to the unfortunate possessors of temperaments.

In that sentence, written by herself, we have the clue to the strange adventures of the unhappy lady who, if she were not the "possessor of a temperament," would be at the present moment Queen of Saxony, a happy wife and mother, beloved by her people, respected and envied by the world at large.

The events which deprived her of that destiny everyone knows—how she left Dresden secretly, how she was supposed to have entangled herself with her children's tutor, how she wandered about Europe half-demented, and how she, a daughter of the proud House of Hapsburg, married a Signor Toselli, from whom she afterwards parted. So much everyone knows. But the causes which led up to these pitiful happenings, those everyone does not know. In this book the Princess explains them from her point of view.

She was in revolt from her earliest days against the restrictions of court etiquette and royal decorum. She writes of her girlhood:

"I wonder if the public has the faintest idea of what the education of a princess really means. As the Christian's life is supposed to be a constant preparation for eternity, so the life of young princess and princess is a constant preparation for their future position and government. We were supposed never to question anything, but merely to become clever automata."

She relates with perfect frankness how her parents sought a husband for her, and relates a laughable interview between her father and the Princess Clementine (mother of Prince Ferdinand, now the King of Bulgaria). The Princess used an ear-trumpet and was christened "Aunt-Croquet Mill."

"They commenced what I can only describe as a shrieking duet. Papa shouted his hopes and plans about me into the ear-trumpet, and Aunt Clementine shrieked about her matrimonial designs for Ferdinand, and in this amusing way I heard their best laid schemes."

Never does she speak of her husband, the King of Saxony, with anything but affection and gratitude. All she says against him is that he was weak. It is upon her father-in-law, the late King, upon her husband's uncles and aunts; upon certain officials at the Court of Dresden that she pours the fullness of her anger and contempt. For she is angry and ill-treated. She realizes what she has lost.

The truth of the case is obvious to anyone who has studied persons who do possess temperament and persons who do not. The same struggle which went on between the Princess and her husband's relations is going on to-day in thousands of homes. A young woman full of modern ideas, eager to be original, snatching at new sensations, naturally jars upon old-fashioned people who have sense and self-control enough to bear with the old people. They establish some sort of working compromise. But the Princess was unfortunately at the mercy of her temperament; that is to say, her actions were governed not by her reason but by her pervers.

No doubt it was very annoying to be told constantly that it "would not be becoming" to do things she wanted to do. No doubt her husband's relations were often irritating, but irritations and annoyances can be reduced to almost nothing if one brings a little wisdom and a little humor to bear upon them. Instead of that the Princess took little pains to conciliate her relatives and worried herself into a fever over their behavior to her.

At last she became so eccentric, so hysterical that they threatened to put her under control. This it was which made her determine to leave home.

Outraged by the suggestion that she was to be confined in a madhouse, she fled from Dresden. She went to Zurich, and there consulted with her brother, Leopold Salvator. He proved a Job's comforter, telling her that she would sooner or later be forced to return to the Dresden palace. She sought in her mind for some means of rendering that impossible. The idea that to compromise herself would effect this. For that reason only she telegraphed to the tutor, M. Girou, he then came to Zurich, leaving again soon afterwards when it was certain that the Saxons Court had been properly scandalized. All this took place five months before the birth of the Princess Monica Pia.

No one who reads her book is likely to condemn utterly this unfortunate Princess. She should be so inclined let them recollect that she is the niece of "Johann Orth," the sailor-Archduke (whom she, by the way, believes to be still alive); of another Archduke who "lives like a peasant" and "worships the sun"; and yet another, "whose chief amusement consisted in riding about in omnibuses and trams." Recollect that she is a cousin of the ill-starred Crown Prince Rudolf and granddaughter of a Prince who kept six hundred clocks and watches ticking in his room!

BURGESS'S SIX HOURS' SWIM

Burgess, the conqueror of the Channel, is enthusiastic about his six hours' swim in the Stadium at the White City. "This," he said, to a press representative, "is my first swim outside the Channel since I succeeded in reaching the French shore. The ordeal of facing a crowd of onlookers is more trying than the conquest of the Channel. I have consented to swim in the Stadium because many people are anxious to see for themselves how long distance swims are accomplished. But even more important is the fact that this form of athletics, more than any other, develops vigor, determination and self-reliance." Burgess detailed the exhibition he is to give on Saturday. "I shall use during the greater part of the time," he said, "my Channel stroke, which, I believe, is different to that of other swimmers, but I shall also show how long distance swimming can be accomplished on the back and on the breast. I shall also take food as I did while swimming from Dover to Griz-Nez. In short, onlookers will see for themselves how I swam the Channel." Burgess, who will arrive at the White City at noon, one hour before he begins his six hours' swim, admitted that he prefers the waves of salt water to the calm of the Stadium's tank. But he will swim the full six hours, even though the temperature of the water is much lower than that of the sea on the day when he swam the Channel. He will be attended by Dr. Wauchop Wilson and Weldmann, who accompanied him then. To-morrow Burgess will be presented at the Garden Club of the Coronation Exhibition, with the Alexander cup.

INTERESTING LEGAL ACTION.

An interesting action arising out of an automobile accident was entered last week by H. Leduc at Montreal, acting as tutor for his minor daughter, Angelina. The girl was knocked down and seriously injured some time ago by an automobile owned by W. Strachan. Mr. Strachan is being sued for $15,000 damages, but as he had taken out insurance not only against all accidents to himself, but also to cover any loss which he might incidentally encounter through the ownership of the car, the insurance company with which he holds his policy are the real defendants in the case.

THE BENEVOLENT BUTLER.

A Calcutta correspondent reports "a truly horrible incident" which befell an English lady. Her "butler" was in the habit of calling loudly beneath her window every evening about seven. His cry suggested that he was calling either the cattle or the chickens home; but though she had neither, the lady for some time took no notice. Until one evening, having the curiosity to look a dusky plover, surrounded by a troop of rats!

There were quite fifty of them, from the big bandicoots to small muskrats, all being fed on the remains of her soap-meat and other bits. In a plague country this was an amusement that was speedily ended.

THE MAYOR'S REPLY.

Explains His Position in Regard to Recent Investigation.

The following letter of explanation from Mayor Morley appears in the morning paper.

Editor Colonist—You will doubtless, in your usual spirit of fair play, permit the Mayor to reply to your severe criticisms in the Sunday editorial. If I infringe too far upon your usual space, kindly insert at advertising rates.

You say "Before the citizens now rests the question of whether their interests will be governed by the council, which they elected to office, or whether they will submit to 'One man's rule.'"

The Mayor heartily endorses the question, but does not rightly know whether the "One man" refers to the Mayor or the gentleman who guides the destinies of the Colonist and has on occasions sought to guide the destinies of the city contrary to the will of the people.

Only a few weeks back this "One man" was so enthused with a suggestion of the Mayor's that he assured him all antagonism was at an end, and that it was his intention to advocate return of Mayor and aldermen this year by acclamation. But the Mayor balked at what appeared to him an unnecessarily large expenditure of the people's money and has again fallen from grace. On the top of this comes the unfortunate investigation and the reputation of the engineer profession.

As regards the investigation, the Mayor repeats what he stated the other night, that he preferred to be severely criticised for doing his duty than for leaving it undone, and all concerned under lasting suspicion. Had the Mayor, known to have received such allegations, not caused investigation, what would have been the position of the Mayor and council and city officials in the public mind, and what would the Colonist have said when it leaked out?

I know not if the city solicitor's strictures refer to the Mayor or not, but I do know the Colonist reversed the facts when it stated "The Mayor was the only member of the council who withheld praise from Mr. McDiarmid." I stated that no one had ever heard the Mayor speak of Mr. McDiarmid or his services, and that the highest appreciation, and suggestion to the council that its only course was to resolve "That the city solicitor's resignation be not accepted," which was done.

Mr. McDiarmid knows that the first hint of alleged irregularities came to the Mayor on his happening into the solicitor's office while Mr. Wilson was relating them. In the afternoon Mr. Wilson told the Mayor fuller particulars in the Mayor's office. On the following morning the Mayor went to Mr. McDiarmid and informed him that "he would be obliged to cause the allegations to be investigated, and sincerely hoped there was no way in which he could be drawn into the matter in such manner as to cause him serious trouble. Mr. McDiarmid replied: 'Mr. Mayor, the city solicitor cannot prevent anyone coming into his office and talking, but he can tell him that if he talks money in his office he would kick him out. By all means, Mr. Mayor, go ahead and investigate.'"

As to the engineer problem, how would it be if the one who guides the policy of the council were to drop politics long enough to frankly tell the public what his own often and honestly expressed opinion is as to the qualifications of the engineer, and as to the council's duty in obtaining the "biggest" man it can for the position, "If we have to pay him eight or even ten thousand dollars a year?" Also to reiterate the opinion he expressed over the phone to the Mayor in regard to Mr. Astley after he had interviewed him.

The Colonist well knows that the engineer of the efficiency of the department is not the issue with the Colonist or the Council. The real issue more clearly understood by the people than the Colonist realizes, was clearly expressed by one of the aldermen going home on the car on the night of the 25th ult., after voting against Mr. Astley. "Well, you were surprised at my voting against Astley after he had told you that I would vote for him, but we had to beat the Mayor."

If this alderman and others, and the Colonist, are willing to beat the interests of the city and citizens to satisfy a craving of personal emulства, the only member of the council who represents the voice of the whole of the people, the position is obvious.

Unfortunately the Mayor does not go into office supported by a party majority and has no fat portfolios with which to strengthen his ability to carry out his policy, and the fact that he has stood in the way of certain people and their little plans does not render his position an easy one.

The Colonist thinks it has the most vulnerable spot in the Mayor's present defenses when it attacks him on his position as to lead that support from the Mayor by the most pitiful forms of misrepresentation, forgetting that while there will always be a whole as before the working classes as a whole are better informed as to the Mayor's action, and of the difficulties in coping with difficult situations, than is the Colonist, and further, that most of the working men are raters, therefore have the pay-lane side to consider as well as the pay side.

When the vote was taken on raising the minimum rate to $2.75, the Mayor voted for it, but, within some three weeks the council was again approached for a second raise, to a minimum rate of $2. The Mayor opposed it on the principle that it was not fair to pay the city employees a higher minimum rate than the city paid to the raters, many of whom were unable to do an average day's work, but on account of being citizens had to be found employment, or otherwise cared for out of charity. It was then, and has been again and again carried out by the Mayor, and endorsed by the council of last year and of this, that the city engineer was authorized to pay as much as $2.75 per day to any workman in the city employed as in his judgment they could earn, or were entitled to. So that there has been nothing to prevent the engineer granting the pay of the workmen up to any wage per day he has deemed above the $2.75, and if he has not paid all workmen the full wage that they are entitled to or that they earn, the responsibility is upon his department.

It is hardly necessary for me to repeat that all the raises in pay that have come to the workmen of the city in past years have come during my tenure of office, but the workmen would not continue to do with their confidence, if he were guilty of seeking their votes by doing that which was contrary to justice and the best interests of the raters at large.

supporter of self and policy. If the good people of Victoria, who have from year to year backed up the Mayor in a hard fight for the people's interest, want him to continue that fight, they must by this time realize that their duty calls for more than the mere casting of a vote.
